MAGNIFICENCE OF VICTORY INCREASES IN THE NATION

Democrats Have Safe Working Majority of Thirty in House, With Gains In The Senate.

SPECULATION AT WASHINGTON

Champ Clark Talks of Democratic Opportunity—New York and New Jersey Do Handsomely—Summary of Results.

The political upheaval of Tuesday was followed yesterday by a general survey of the field which disclosed with greater detail and precision just what results have been accomplished.

Latest calculations on the National House of Representatives, based on complete, but unofficial returns, show that the Democrats will have a safe working majority of 30.

The outcome of the United States Senate is now definitely settled. The Republicans are assured of 47 new Senators, which with 34 hold-over Senators, gives them a total of 51 The Democrats are assured of 50 new Senators, which with 25 hold-overs gives them a total of 40.

Two Senatorships are still in doubt, namely the successor of the late Mr. Dolliver in Iowa, and of Mr. Carter, in Montana, where there is prospect of a tie.

These determined totals however, leave a Republican majority in the Senate as follows: Total membership 92, necessary to majority 47; Republicans 50; Democrats 40; doubtful 2.

The 16 Republican Senators considered assurred are: California, Connecticut, Delaware, Minnesota, Michigan, Nevada, North Dakota, 2; Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, Utah, Vermont, Washington, Wisconsin and Wyoming.

The 15 Democratic Senators considered assurred are from Florida, Indiana, Maine, Maryland, Missouri, Mississippi, Nebraska, New Jersey, New York, Ohio, Tennessee, Texas, Virginia and West Virginia.

New York, Dix	66,000
New Jersey, Wilson	30,000
Connecticut, Baldwin	3,500
Massachusetts, Foss	33,000
Ohio, Harmon	60,000
Oklahoma, Cruce	—/—
Oregon, West	—/—
Wyoming, Carey	—/—
Alabama, O'Neal	50,000
South Carolina, Blease	60,000
Texas, Colquitt	—/—
North Dakota, Burke	3,000

The Republican Governors elected with approximate pluralities:

Pennsylvania, Tener	20,000
New Hampshire, Bass	7,000
Rhode Island, Pothier	900
Iowa, Carroll	10,000
Kansas, Stubbs	5,000
Michigan, Osborn	40,000
Minnesota, Eberhart	50,000
Nebraska, Aldrich	5,000
South Dakota, Vessey	12,000
Wisconsin, McGovern	—/—
California, Johnson	25,000
Nevada, Oddie	—/—
Tennessee, Hooper (Fusion)	12,000

The Governorships in two States are not yet reported as being beyond doubt, namely, Colorado and Idaho.

House Safely Democratic.

Chicago, Nov. 9.—Sixty-second Congress:

Democrats elected	226
Republicans elected	163
Socialists elected	1
Doubtful district	1
Total	391
Majority of House	196
Democratic majority in House	30

Complete returns on the election of Representatives in Congress indicate that the Democrats will have a working majority of 30 in the next House. The number f Democrats elected to Congress according to the latest returns, which are of an unofficial character, is 226.

The Republican representation will be 164 or 165, or eight seats less than the Democrats now have in the 61st Congress.

The 11th Pennsylvania district, which is represented in the 61st Congress by a Republican, is in doubt. The 12th Pennsylvania district, also normally Republican, is likewise in doubt. The earlier returns indicated the election of Robert E. Lee and he is carried in the table as representative of that district. Later returns, however, give his Republiian opponent, Robert D. Heaton, an excellent fighting chance and the official count will be necessary to determine the result.

Absolute confidence is not felt in the returns for some of the Wisconsin districts, and it is not impossible that the official figures will change the totals of the two parties. The fifth Wisconsin district is claimed by Victor L. Berger, Socialist. Henry F. Cochems, the Republican candidate, does not concede Berger's election, and a re-count may be necessary to decide the election.

Congressional gains were made by the Republicans and Democrats in the following States:

	Dem.	Rep.
Connecticut	1	—
Illinois	4	—
Indiana	1	—
Iowa	2	—
Iowa	—	1
Kentucky	1	—

Net Democratic gain 52.

Indianapolis, Ind., Nov. 9.—Senator A. J. Beveridge's hopes for another term at Washington went glimmering when later returns showed conclusively that the Democrats yesterday elected a majority of the members of the Indiana assembly, which will meet next January to chose Mr. Beveridge's successor.

According to the latest figures the Democrats will have a majority of 23. John W. Kern was endorsed last Spring by the Democrats for United States Senator and in all probability he will become the colleague of Senator Shively, also a Democrat.

It is conceded tonight that the Democratic State ticket was elected by a plurality of about 15,000.

Of the 13 Indiana Congressmen, 12 will be Democrats. Edgar Dean Crumpacker, of the ninth district, was the only Republican elected.

For the first time in 13 years the Democrats have control of every branch of the State government, the two United States Senators and all but one member of the Congressional delegation.

Governor Marshall's term has two years to run. The next State Senate will be Democratic by 10 and the House Democratic by 22. The programme of the Democratic legislation as announced in the party's platform, includes repeal of the county option law and the substitution of a law providing for city, ward and rural township option units.

Kansas Republican.

Topeka, Kans., Nov. 9.—Governor W. R. Stubs, Republican, tonight is leading George H. Hodges, Democratic candidate for Governor, by 9,433 majority on returns, almost complete, from 93 of 103 counties in the State. The probability is that Stubbs' plurality will exceed 10,000. The eight Republican Congressional candidates were elected.

Socialist-Democrat Elected.

Milwaukee, Wis., Nov. 9.—The Evening Wisconsin in a late edition gives a tabulated vote of Victor L. Berger, Socialist-Democrat, and Henry C. Cochems, Republican candidate for Congress in the fifth district, which gives Berger 272 majority with one precinct in Waukesha county missing.

Slemp Probably Elected.

Roanoke, Va., Nov. 9.—Henry Stuart, Democrat, concedes his defeat for Congress in the ninth Virginia district by Bascom Slemp, Republican, by a majority of 150, basing his statement on figures at hand. Mr. Stuart's friends do not concede his defeat. The figures show a Democratic gain of 4,000.

BIG BLAZE AT MONROE, N. C.

..ne Hundred Bales of Cotton Burned There Early Yesterday Morning.—Loss May Reach $75,000.—Little Insurance.

Monroe, N. C., Nov. 9.—A fire that broke out on the cotton platform here at . o'clock this morning caused the greatest destruction of property in Monroe's history, a conservative estimate placing the loss at $75,000. Between 800 and 900 bales of cotton, the platform and weigher's stand, and four straight freight cars were entirely destroyed, and it is not yet known how much is covered by insurance. The largest losers were Crow Bros., who are said to have lost about $15,000, partly insured.

AVIATORS HAVE BIG DAY.

Series of Flights in Baltimore Meet Yesterday—Features.

Baltimore, Nov. 9.—A beautiful day, with ideal conditions for flight, this afternoon rewarded those who have patiently waited since the formal opening of the Baltimore Aviation meet ago yesterday. The wind was at no time high enough to interfere with flights. The result was a series of flights totally eclipsing in interest anything yet seen in Baltimore save Latham's wonderful flight over the city on Monday.

The audience saw in action today every type of aeroplane now on the grounds. Archibald Hoxsey opened the entertainment in a Wright biplane; Hubert Latham showed his Antoinette at its best; Count Jacques de Lesseps, J. Armstrong Drexel and James Radley were out in their Blerlots, and Willard and Ely showed something of what the Curtiss biplanes can do.

There were three cross-country flights to Fort Carroll and return. The fort is a massive granite structure in the Patapsco river below the entrance to Baltimore harbor, about nine miles from the aviation field. Latham made the first flight in 28 minutes, 58 seconds. DeLesseps bettered this, his time being 26 minutes, 15 seconds. But it remained for Drexel to make the fastest trip, he covering the distance in 23 minutes 34 4-5 seconds. Hoxsey made a flight for altitude in an endeavor to win the $2,500 prize offered by the American, and The Star to the first aviator to reach, during this meet, a height of 10,000 feet ar more above the earth. He was in the biplane in which Johnstone sailed skyward over 9,700 feet, making a world's record, but today Hoxsey scored only 4,336 feet.

GODWIN'S MAJORITY.

Dunn, N. C., Nov. 9.—Latest unofficial returns tonight indicate that Godwin's majority over Meares will be about 6,100. The Harnett man received a general increase in this election over two years in every county except New Hanover where the vote was light.

TAFT BOARDS CRUISER TODAY

President Leaves for Panama From Charleston, S. C.—Regained Good Humor Yesterday After the Gloom.

Washington, Nov. 9.—President Taft left here at 4:05 P. M. over the Washington, Southern & Atlantic Coast Line for Charleston, S. C., where he will board the cruiser Tennessee tomorrow at noon for the trip to Panama.

Mr. Taft will be away about two weeks. The trip is one strictly of business and he will make a complete study of the situation on the Isthmus upon which is to be taken up by Congress during the coming session.

He is reported to have been very gloomy last night when he received the election news on his train returning from Cincinnati, President Taft seemed to have regained much of his usual good humor when he reached the executive offices shortly after 10 o'clock today. At 11 o'clock there was a session of the cabinet. Most of the members of the President's official family were decidedly sober in their expressions. They were heartily greeted by the President, however, who urged them to take an optim'stic view of the future.

Richmond, Va., Nov. 9.—President Taft passed through Richmond this evening on his way to Panama via Charleston, S. C. He did not leave his car, however, and did not show himself thereon to those who were on the lookout for him.

New Orleans, Nov. 9—The Lane Cotton Mills, employing 1,000 operatives, resumed operations today after having been closed since last April.

GAYNOR MAY END NEW YORK STRIKE

Orders From Mayor Eliminating Strike Breakers Move For Settlement.

RIOTING IS STILL UNABATED

Express Men Have Withdrawn Their Demand For Recignition of the Union.—Meat Inspector Badly Injured in Rioting.

New York, Nov. 9.—Mayor Gaynor issued two characteristic letters tonight which promises to bring the strike of the express company employes to a head tomorrow. Briefly, he forbids the operation of wagons by unlicensed drivers, thus eliminating the strike breakers upon which the companies have depended. Mayor Wittpenn, of Jersey City, already had taken this stand, and a test case is now in the Jersey City courts.

More than 10,000 drivers and helpers, augmented by most of the taxicab chauffeurs in New York, are still on strike and rioting is unabated. Millions of packages are awaiting delivery. John Williams, State Commissioner of Labor, is due here from Albany tomorrow and with Mayor Gaynor's action and a tareat of state intervention, it is hoped that a settlement will be reached.

The mayor's letters made public tonight are adressed to the American Express Company and Mayor Wittpenn of Jersey City, respectively. To the Company he said:

"Although this strike has been on for over two weeks, the express companies have not up to today caused their new drivers to present themselves and be vouched for and licensed as required by law before the May act. I must now require that this condition cease. The sight of the city protected by police escort wagons, driven by unlicensed drivers in violation of law is exciting just criticism. We have continued this protection only because we expected from day today that on second thought you would not, especially at such a time, continue such an object lesson of disrespect and disregard of the law. Disrespect and disregard of the law by persons and corporations, who should be the first to obey the law, has been the source of most of the evils and abuses which have accumulated in this country during the last 25 years. You are also using unlicensed wagons in violation of law. Unlicensed push carts and venders' wagons found in the streets are taken to the corporation yard and impounded there. Are you not able to see how demoralized it would be to exempt you from the rule that applies by law to all without distinction?"

In his letter to Mayor Wittpen, Mayor Gaynor reviews the men's demands for an eleven hour day, pay for overtime and recognition of the Union.

"At my earnest request,' he continues, "the men withdrew their demand for recognition of the Union and also agreed to leave the settlement of hours and wages until after they had resumed work. I supposed, of course, that this would settle the strike, but when I presented it to the companies, they refused, at the instance of one company, or one man to accept it as a basis of settlement. but wanted an additional condition, that they should be free to reject or discharge any one on the ground that he had joined the Union. They rejected what is called the 'open saop.'

It is said that 'one company" is the United States Express Company and the "one man Frank H. Platt, its president.

No decision has been reached by the coal drivers on the question of a sympathetic strike nor has a general strike been ordered. A mass meeting to consider the advisability of a general strike has been postponed indefinitely.

Worst Riot of Strike.

One of the worst riots in the express strike occurred this afternoon in Eighth avenue near the garage of the New York Taxicab Company, drivers of four machines which were sent out were attacked by a mob, pulled off the machines and badly beaten. Police reserves finally beat off the mob. Several arrests were made.

An act of vandalism in connection with the strike was followed this afternoon on First avenue by the probably fatal injury of Charles Fredericks, a meat inspector, who was found near the scene of the disturbance with a fractured skull and other hurts. A loaded truck belonging to a big furniture house whose employes have struck was set on fire and the furniture entirely destroyed. The driver and helper escaped. The police were told that Fredericks looked like a man who rode on the truck with the driver and helper.

Stop Unlicensed Drivers.

New York, Nov. 9.—The police began holding up express wagons manned by unlicensed drivers almost immediately the mayor's letter was issued.

Vehicles thus seized were held in the corporation yard just as pedlar carts are held. A heavily loaded American Express Company's wagon was the first detained.

A gang of seven strikers overturned a loaded Adams Express Company wagon tonight, and after driving off three of the wagon men, attacked John Smith, a guard. When they had beaten Smith nearly in unconsciousness, they cut the harness and sent the horses galloping down the street, then started into smash the express matter. Two crates of live chickens were sent squawking to the four winds. The police arrived too late to make any arrests.

MEXICANS ATTACK MANY AMERICANS

Feeling Runs High at Mexico City on Account of Recent Lynching in Texas.

U. S. FLAG TORN TO SHREDS

Intense Situation in Mexico City.—Demonstration by Students—Trouble Renewed.—Of International Importance.

Mexico City, Nov. 9.—Through insults to the American flag and assaults made openly upon American citizens in the streets the anti-American demonstration, which began last night with the stoning of the Mexican Herald offices, developed this afternoon into an affair of international importance.

A vigorous protest was registered by the American ambassador with the Mexican Department of Foreign Relations and at the same time the facts were telegraphed to Washington and instructions asked for.

Tonight the attacks were renewed. Windows in a dozen American business places were smashed. All about town shutters were hurriedly drawn and establishments closed. Forces of police appeared in the streets and kept the crowds moving.

American Flag Torn Down.

While the police looked on and seemingly made no effort to prevent it, an American flag floating in front of a candy store in the business quarter was torn down this forenoon by several hundred medical students and others, who trampled and spat on the Stars and Stripes. The mob then tore the flag to tatters. Photographs were taken of the flag desecrators before the officers of the Diaro Del Hogar, a Mexican newspaper, showing many individuals waving bits of the torn American flag.

The demonstration today was a continuation of the affair of last night caused by antipathy aroused among the people by the burning at the stake of Antonio Rodriguez at Rock Springs, Texas, on the night of November 3rd.

Publication today by several Mexican papers of violent attacks on Americans last night tended to incense the medical students, who were promoters of last night's demonstration.

El Diario Del Hogar was particularly violent in the expressions of animosity toward the people of the United States characterizing them as "giants of the dollar, pigmies of culture and barbarous whites of the North." and asking "where is the boasted Yankee civilization?"

Foreign Minister Creel said to reporters tonight that every effort would be made to punish those guilty of offering insult to the American flag.

Caused by Lynching.

Washington, Nov. 9.—Protesting vigorously on behalf of the Mexican government, Senor de LaBarra, ambassador to the United States from Mexico, presented a claim for reparation to the State Department today because of the lynching of Abtonio Rodriguez at Rock Springs, Texas, on November 3rd. Rodriguez, who was a Mexican citizen, confessed to the murder of Mrs. Lem Henderson, at Rock Springs, and was burned at the stake.

Senor DeLabarra had a lengthy conference with Alvey A. Adee, second assistant Secretary of State, in which he was assured that the United States would do everything possible to apprehend the guilty persons.

Only meagre details have reached the State Department from Texas about the lynching, but the officials today telegraphed to Governor Campbell, of Texas, to investigate the case and to take proper steps to punish the offenders.

Mexico City, Nov. 9.—There was another anti-American demonstration in the streets today. A crowd of 600 persons marched to the municipal palace giving frequent expression to their opinions of United States citizens.

The crowd was followed by police and mounted soldiers. The demonstrators were students of the medical school, who had been excited by anti-American articles appearing in several papers.

Democrats in Oregon.

Portland, Ore., Nov. 9.—Complete returns from 267 out of 987 precincts in the State at large and from incomplete returns from 87 precincts give Oswalk West, Democratic nominee for Governor, a lead of 1,702 over Jay Bowerman, Republican.

TRINITY PRESIDENT IS INAUGURATED

WITH NOTABLE CEREMONIES

Annual Address Sets New Ideals for Famous College.—Many Distinguished Visitors For Exercises.—Social Features.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Trinity College, Durham, Nov. 9.—An event of National importance was the inauguration here today of William Preston Few, Ph. D., as president of Trinity College. It is by far the greatest educational event that has ever taken place in the South. Delegates began to arrive early Tuesday morning and a steady stream of visitors has been pouring into the city ever since.

A special train from Greensboro reached the city at 9 o'clock, bearing the greater part of the many delegates from the most prominent colleges and universities in the United States, besides hundreds of alumni and friends.

The exercises began at 9:00 o'clock, with the registration of delegates and guests in the new Washington Duke building, west wing. At 9:30 took place the presentation of the new building. Mr. F. L. Fuller made the speech of presentation for Mr. B. M. Duke, the donor, and the speech of acceptance was made by the Hon. James H. Southgate on behalf of the Board of Trustees.

At . o'clock the chief marshal, aides composed of professors in the college, in the school of law, other members of the faculties and invited guests, aides from the members of the board of trustees, the bursar bearing the keys, the librarian bearing the charter, the secretary of the corporation bearing the seal, the dean of the faculty of law, the dean of the college, the president of the board of trustees, the mayor of Durham, the Governor of North Carolina, the Rev. Stonewall Anderson, Frederick William Hamilton, president of Tufts College, the retiring president, Harry Pratt Judson, president of the University of Chicago, and the president-elect formed in a line and marched to the Craven Memoiral Hall, where the exercises of induction began.

"How Firm a Foundation," was the processional hymn, and the audience stood and sung this while the procession filed into the house. The invocation was made by the Rev. Stonewall Anderson, of the Southern Methodist Church. Bishop Kilgo, retiring president, inducted the new president into office in a most eloquent speech in which he paid a glowing tribute to the character of Dr. Few. The bishop also presented the seal and charter of the college to the new president. Immediately following the induction, Gov. Kitchin in his usual pleasing manner, delivered the congratulatory address on behalf of the Commonwealth and made a hit with the visitors. Dr. Harry Pratt Judson, president of the University of Chicago, and one of the most prominent characters present, then made the congratulatory address on benalf of the visiting delegates. Dr. Judson's speech was one of the finest ever heard in the Craven Hall, and he said something worth listening to. Then came the inaugural address of the new president, which was spoken of in high terms. The speech was by far the best that President Few has made in many a day. It was an exposition of his idea of what he hoped and wanted Trinity College to become. After the benediction by President Hamilton of Tuft's College, and music by the orchestra, the presentation of the delegates in the order of the foundation of their institutions took place, and luncheon in the west wing of the Wasnington Duke Building began at 1:30 o clock.

At the luncheon, Chancellor James H. Kirkland, of Vanderbilt University, presided, and the speakers were President Abbott Lawrence Lowell, of Harvard University; Dean Frederick S. Jones, of Yale University; President Eugene Allen Noble, of Goucher College, Baltimore; President David Starr Jordan, of Leland Stanford, Jr., University; President David F. Houston, Washington University, St. Louis; and President E. B. Craighead, of Tulane University, New Orleans.

While this was going on, Mrs. James Edward Stagg was giving a luncheon to the ladies accompanying the delegates, at her home on Morehead Hill.

The last of the features of the inauguration was an informal reception to the delegates and invited guests by Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin N. Duke at their elegant home on Chapel Hill street. This was from 9:00 to 11:00 P. M., and was perhaps the most brilliant of all the events attendant upon the inauguration. It was the first function of the Duke family in their new residence.

Dr. Few's Address.

Dr. Few in addressing his distinguished audience, said:

It would seem to be appropriate for me on an occasion like this, to give as clearly as I can my conception of the place of the college in Southern development, and, coming closer home, to say plainly what I think Trinity College should undertake to do. This last is the easier for the fact that

I have, during the past fourteen years, sustained intimate relations to the administration of the College, and with that administration I have been in complete accord. I find now that the way has been marked out by my predecessor and that the college has only to go to the completion of the tasks it has already set before itself.

The structural break with the past caused by the Civil War and succeeding events has made difficult and important our political readjustment and the right mediation of the present between our past and our future. But apart from any considerations of history and without regard to any theory or school of politics ... must be plain to us all that, in a democracy where everything is determined by majorities, every intelligent man should carefully enquire into the merits of all questions upon which he is to cast his ballot and should vote his matured convictions, rather than settle these questions as if they were matters of course, off-hand and in obedience to ancient sentiment. In the part of the South with which this College is immediately concerned, freedom of speech and freedom of action in politics is today complete. But here as everywhere else in the country we need to intensify the sense of responsibility that is imposed by the rate to vote upon every thoughtful and upright man. And here perhaps more than elsewhere in America we need the courage and moral energy which compel a man to speak the thoughts that are in him, and, when the time comes, to stand up and be counted, whether girt by friend or foe. Just as for many years it has been teaching, Trinity College will contine, both by precept and example to teach this sort of resolute doing of one's public duties.

Upon the college in the South rests the further duty of mediation between the religious conservatism of this region and the great intellectual ferment of the age. Again the problem is to keep the good that has come to us out of the past and adjust it to the conditions and needs of the present. The influential place which the church holds in the South I should like to see, not only abide, but grow and extend; for it is the business of the church to guide the spiritual forces that control the world. The Southern college, if it be wise enough to understand its opportunity, will work in hearty cooperation with the churches. It will not seek to make friends with the churches for the purpose of using them as bill-boards on which to advertise its wares; it will not court their goodwill in order to rally its constituency; but in all sincerity it will labor with them just to the end of strengthening and sweetening human life. The aim of Trinity College is stated by the words on its seal, "Religion and Education," not two but one and inseparable: religion that comprehends the whole of life and education that seeks to develop all the faculties of men.

One of our first tasks is the material uplifting of the section, the development of all kinds of business, the creation of wealth, and the building of vital forces of civilization. We are now in the midst of a great industrial awakening; even in the old business of agriculture a new day has arrived. In solving the problems of the new industrialism education has a part to play; and I am not now thinking of industrial education. While every individual ought to be trained with some reference to the kind of life he is going to live, but I for one do not wish to see money-making set at the heart of the education of any considerable portion of Southern people. Greed is already perhaps our characteristic national vice, and it does not need the fostering of education. While Southern people are poor and ought to be encouraged by every right method to get their share of the wealth and physical well-being that have been more widespread in other parts of America, yet to educate a race of mere money-makers would hurry in an era of sordid materialism that would be a more deadening blight to right and worthy living than ignorance and poverty have been. Let us have wealth and the training of wealth producers; but let us not give to industrial training an undue emphasis in the education of youth.

Of all the confusions of tragedies that followed the Civil War in the South, perhaps the most pathetic have been the chaotic educational conditions of the last half-century. There has been progress in the direction of a rational system of education, but we are not yet out of the wilderness. In all educational reform the college should furnish its full share of leadership. And this means that it must not be content to ride upon whatever may happen to be the popular wave, but it must resist fads and bad tendencies as well as encourage and direct right tendencies. Trinity College will always throw itself unreservedly into the doing of the supreme duty of the hour. A while ago it was at any cost to break the shackles of politics and traditionalism. Today it is to put within reach of every child the opportunities of the elementary school, the grammar-school, and the high school. This task is made extraordinarily difficult by the double system of education that must be maintained for the two races; and in this great task every bit of strength the State can command from all sources for the next ten years should be concentrated. To consolidate all the forces in the State for this purpose and to utilize them so that the largest and most beneficent results may follow is a proposal that should command the heart and hope of all enlightened men and women.

I believe that every college should give itself to the doing of the hard tasks of society, and that every educated man should do his full stint of work. Attention ought also to be paid to the gentler side of Southern civilization. It was the graciousness, the hospitality, the beauty and purity of the social life that was the best characteristic of the old order. The grace and charm of our elders in their best estate have gone, and have been succeeded by much that is crude and raw in our life. But the right kind of education will nourish the poise and fineness of temper that form an essential part of every cultivated man.

These are some of the ways in which a college may promote the interests of society, if it is controlled by wide sympathies and a spirit of constructive helpfulness. It is not, however, among the direct aims of the college to educate publicists or ministers or skilled workmen or teachers, but to send out graduates who have been trained for efficiency and who are equipped with trustworthy character. The college that is doing most to produce these qualities of efficiency and character is rendering the largest service to the world. These are precisely the qualities that are needed in politics, in the church, in business, in education, and in society. Many lines of business and some other forms of endeavor in America have grown faster than men have been developed to manage them. And this failure of American civilization to develop an adequate supply of efficient and trustworthy men gives whatever of justification there may be for the belief held by a good many foreigners and others that our form of government is breaking down at some points.

There is a feeling rather widespread, though I am not sure it is just, that the college of today does not make as surely for efficiency and character as did the college of other days. The college has certainly in some ways gained, and perhaps in others it has lost, ground. The old curriculum with its fixed studies and severe disciplines has been liberalized and enriched. American colleges have grown and have improved their facilities for education until, in the matter of educational opportunities, the best of them are perhaps unexcelled in the world. But it is becoming increasingly clear that it is not enough for the college to hold out rich opportunities to its students and then unconcernedly leave them to use or neglect the opportunities as they may see fit. Ways and means must be found to make education take effect. The educational appliances must somehow be brought into live connection with undergraduate callowness. There is a saying current in German universities that one-third fail, one-third go to the devil, but that the remaining third govern Europe. This survival represents too great a loss of human life. Freedom of opportunity must mean freedom to go to destruction, but in the case of college youth, freedom must be hedged about with restraints. The fine old phrase 'cure of souls," if extended to include cure of minds and bodies, would define the function of the college.

The four years in college ought to be very happy years in every man's life—happy not because he spends them in idleness or luxury, but because they are years full of effort and achievement, of generous friendships and inspiring ideals, full of youth and hope. A normal man, if he once get a taste of it, enjoys vigorous work and wholesome living. The educational opportunities offered by the prosperous colleges of the East or the big state universities of the West are unquestionably far superior to the opportunities that can be offered by the struggling colleges of the South. But there are evils of prosperity as well as evils of adversity. And, despite all our limitations, it is probably no more difficult for us than for them to secure vigorous intellectual work and wholesome living; in fact, I am encouraged to believe that the conditions are ripe for the building of some great colleges in the South. But we shall have to profit by the experiences of colleges elsewhere—by their successes and by their failures. Especially must we learn how to bring the processes of education effectively to bear on a large proportion of students. The growing importance that secondary concerns hold in the thought of undergraduates is more and more tending to obscure the true ends of a college course. If we can take command of the situation before the tyranny of public opinion is fastened upon us by students, young alumni, and communities taught to demand this sort of entertainment at the hands of colleges, then I believe it will be possible for us to shift the center of interest from athletics and other equally irrelevant undergraduates absorptions on to the intellectual pursuits and wholesome recreations that are proper to college life. This shifting of the center of gravity will be helped by adequate regulation and due subordination of athletics; by demanding strict attendance upon college duties; by exacting a reasonable amount of intellectual work; and by enforcing rigorous standards of scholarship. In developing our colleges we have the chance to put upon self-cultivation and wholesome living an emphasis they do not now unusually get in American colleges.

Our opportunity consists partly, too, in magnifying the function of the teacher. For its teachers the college needs men of ideas and power rather than experts in the several branches of learning. The almost exclusive use of scholarship tests in the selection of teachers is, in my judgment, one of the gravest defects in American colleges and even in the greatest American universities. Scholarship enters essentially into the making of a good teacher, but so do also a genuine interest in young men and some gift for teaching. Graduate-school ideals have worked themselves down into the college to the serious detriment of the college. I have nothing but praise for the painstaking investigation and thorough-going honesty that belong to the best scholarship of our time. Unceasing search for truth is necessary to ensue the continued progress of the race; and every wise man will keep an open mind towards truth in all its phases. I, of course, believe in perfect freedom to teach and freedom to learn. But I do not regard the speculative pursuit of new truth as the main end of college education. The search for truth is in itself profitable, but the search is most profitable when it results in finding truth and in making the widest applications of it to human life and human conduct. An undergraduate ought not to be ever learning, and never able to come to the knowledge of the truth. The thin air of highly speculative knowledge cannot nourish hardy and robust manhood. Probably everybody knows truth enough to save his life if he would use what he knows. Some things, after all, are known, and there is no need for a man to stop and build his own bridge every time a bridged river crosses his path. If a perfect college curriculum could be framed I believe it would insure to every student familiarity with the best that has been wrought out of the experience of the race and close contact with such studies as are fitted to produce in him "soberness, righteousness, and wisdom"; and then it would leave room for individual tastes and aptitudes.

To give the proper oversight of the studies of undergraduates is not enough, but their living conditions, their conduct, and their habits must be looked after. The minds need rectifying, but just as often the lives need to be renovated. What profiteth it a man though he speak with the tongues of men and angels, and leave college a dyspeptic though he understand all knowledge and have the habit of spending money that does not belong to him, or be confirmed in any of the other fatal vices that beset college youth? Conduct, as Matthew Arnold has said, is more than three-fourths of life. If their work is to be of the highest value, colleges must find and control the motive-powers that lie at the basis of character. I admit is hard to keep other things equal; but, other things being equal, the so-called small college, with its intimate contacts and direct methods, probably has the best chance to do the sort of teaching that forms as well as informs.

If the Southern colleges is to be a leader for conservative progress in this generation, it must be given a free hand. To stand against reaction on the one side and radicalism on the other, it needs a great deal of power. It must by its organization be safeguarded against the dangers of mob opinion and the possibilities of inefficient control. To stand for correct ideals and even fight for them when neecssary and at the same time to keep in sympathetic relations with the people whom it would serve is, perhaps, the most difficult problem that a Southern college in our time has to solve.

Regard for the voices of political expediency and pliant opportunism has time and again proved disastrous to the Southern states as it has often proved disastrous to other American states. Minds unpracticed in cogent thinking usually seek to catch the nearest way and follow the line of least resistance. The college that aspires to a place of leadership in the service of the Republic must at times resist with all its power the mighty local influences that would sway it from its true course. To have faith in the future of America at all, or, for that matter, to contemplate human life with any degree of patience, one must believe that the people wish to do right and in the long run and in the main will do right; and more and more are we going to rely upon the people. But this does not mean that they have the expert knowledge to manage a college any more than it means that they are competent to argue a point of law before the Supreme Court of the United States, or to treat an acute case of pneumonia. The susceptibility of a pliable democracy to periodic attacks of national or sectional hysterics, the oft-used power of sensational newspapers and alarmist popular leaders to "insurrect the public mind" ought in the colleges always to find bulwarks against which they dash themselves in vain. Only the college that is strong enough to survive these fearful testings can fulfill in our civilization the mission that great colleges should fulfill.

Such colleges must also occasionally rouse themselves to the still more ungracious task of resisting the imposition upon them from the outside of ideas that would hurt them. There are competent and conscientious educational experts in our time who seem to ignore the fact that a college must be in large part the product of development and not a forced growth; and that it should follow the lines of its own development and not be made to form itself on some wholly extraneous model. Forced conformity to types of organization that prevail elsewhere and are then regarded as ideal would unfit Southern colleges for doing the very service to which they seem by circumstances to be ordained. Against this subtle danger I believe that Trinity College will set itself with all its might.

Another temptation from which our colleges should turn is the temptation to strive for bigness. The vicious doctrine of numbers has I think, never been more overworked than in American educational institutions. The desire to be big rather than great is responsible for many of the evils from which American colleges are suffering today. Some of the evils are due to quick growth and the inability of the colleges at once to adjust themselves to the new conditions. We at the South have not suffered from this cause, but we are in danger of deliberately taking over some of the evils from which circumstances have kept us free. One result of this over anxiety for size and numbers is the ruinous tendency for colleges to be concerned primarily about their immediate interests—more students, bigger buildings, increased appropriations, larger gifts—rather than to serve, and when necessary to suffer for, the great causes of men. This kind of striving must benumb the noblest aspirations and make impossible the truest success of colleges; for colleges, like men, are subject to the immutable law of greatness through service. The greatness of the college depends not upon the size of its plant or the number of its students, but upon the quality of the men who teach and the quality of the men who learn—upon its ideals and its annuence.

We here have no ambition to be miscalled a university; we are not even concerned that this shall be a "big" college; but we are immensely concerned that it shall be a shining place where high-minded youth may catch aspirations to true character and genuine excellence, and whence into this vast experiment in democratic government that is being tried out on the American continent, there shall go a long succession of men who have been trained to think straight and to think through to right conclusions, and made strong by the power to know the truth and the will to live it.

Quality That Goes Deeper Than Looks

By actual test there is 30 days more wear in a pair of Craddock Shoes than in any other shoe at the same price. Where there are many feet in the family this is a big saving. This is a clean gain, too, for you have not sacrificed any part of style, or fit, or comfort, for additional wear.

ELECTED CASHIER OF BANK.

Mr. H. M. Cox Goes to Mount Olive Today to Assume New Duties.

Mr. H. M. Cox, who has been bookkeeper for Pearsall & Co., for the past six months, was recently elected cashier of the Citizens' Bank at Mount Olive and will leave today to enter upon his new duties. Mr. J. E. Kelly, of Mount Olive, is president of the bank which is a flourishing institution. Mr. Cox has made many friends in this city who will regret to learn of his departure, but will congratulate him upon his election to a more lucrative and responsible position and will wish for him the full measure of success. He is a graduate of Wofford College, Spartanburg, S. C., and prior to his removal to this city taught school in Columbus county. He is a clever and genial young man of great ability and his many friends here predict for him great success in the banking business.

MISS MARY BALLINGER DEAD.

Passed Away Last Night After a Long Illness.

Many friends will be pained and saddened to learn of the death of Miss Mary A. Ballinger, granddaughter of Mr. S. W. Holden, which occurred at 7:30 o'clock last night at her home, No. 111 Chestnut street, after a long illness. Miss Ballinger was in the 27th year of her age and a young lady much admired by a wide circle of friends, who will be deeply grieved to learn of her passing. Besides her grandfather she is survived by one brother, Mr. Samuel Ballinger, of Brunswick county, and one sister, Miss Sallie Ballinger, of this city, who have the tenderest sympathy of a great many friends in their bereavement. The funeral will be held from the residence at 3:30 o'clock this afternoon, conducted by Rev. J. A. Smith, and the interment will be in Bellevue cemetery.

PATIENT SHOOTS DOCTOR.

Then Turned Pistol on Himself—Occurred in Chicago.

Chicago, Nov. 9.—Dr. J. Hollinger, a throat specialist, was shot three times today by Louis Martin, a plumber, who came to Chicago from Kansas City, Missiouri, several months ago. Martin then killed himself. Dr. Hollinger was not fatally wounded.

The plumber was a patient of the specialist's since last Spring, when an operation was performed in a Chicago hospital.

No motive for the shooting can be learned by the police from the doctor. Mrs. A. C. Boyd, a woman patient, was in the physician's office consulting him when Martin entered with the drawn revolver and began firing.

Hollinger fell under the shots which struck him in the head and arm. Martin with his last bullet killed himself.

PROTRACTED MEETING.

One Will Begin at South River Presbyterian Church Sunday.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Garland, N. C., Nov. 8.—A protracted meeting will be held at South River Presbyterian Church, Garland, N. C., beginning the second Sunday, Nov. 13th, and lasting through the third Sunday. The services will be conducted by Rev. E. B. Kerr, of Chadbourn, present supply of the church, assisted by Rev. P. L. Clark, of Clinton, N. C. All are cordially invited to attend the services.

This is another link in the long chain of evidence to prove the reliability of this standard medicine for women.

Saves an Iowa Man's Life.

The very grave seemed to yawn before Robert Madsen, of West Burlington, Iowa, when, after seven weeks in the hospital, four of the best physicians gave him up. Then was shown the marvelous curative power of Electric Bitters. For, after eight months of frightful suffering from liver trouble and yellow jaundice, getting no help from other remedies or doctors, five bottles of this matchless medicine completely cured him. It's positively guaranteed for stomach, liver or kidney troubles and never disappoints. Only 50c at Robert R. Bellamy's.

FIFTY THOUSAND IN CAROLINA

State Democratic Headquarters Closed Last Night After Glorious Victory—Returns From Counties and Congressional

(Special Star Telegram.)

Raleigh, N. C., Nov. 9.—State Chairman A. H. Eller closed Democratic headquarters here tonight to take the 2 A. M. train for his home in Winston Salem, well pleased with the results of the campaign he has directed and deeply grateful for the thorough co-operation he has received from party leaders and the rank and file of Democracy all over North Carolina.

Tardy reports coming in today convinced him more than ever that the Democratic majority in the State will measure up to his claims of around 50,000 and that the party wins all ten Congressional Districts and adds 10 or 12 to the already overwhelming majority in the lower house and probably five to the Senatorial majority in the General Assembly.

Chairman Eller goes home with the satisfaction of increased majorities wherever party lines have been sharply drawn and leaving for the State Board of Elections the work of canvassing and declaring the results in detail, confident that the showing will be all that he claims. As bearing on Doughton's majority for Congress over Cowles in the Eighth, additional returns today show probably 1,000 majority—Rowan, 850; Cabarrus, 58; Stanley 79; Iredell, 1,022; Alleghney, 233, with Doughton majorities of probably 250 in Ashe and Wautaugua. Cowles has his majority in Wilkes his home county cut to 1,172. His Alexander county majority was 170.

The latest figures here show Gudger's majority in the Tenth District over Congressman Grant 600 to 800. Gudger carries Haywood 760; Buncombe 425; Rutherford 400; Clay 50; MacDowell 50; Polk 75. Grant has majorities of 550 in Henderson, 350 in Cherokee, thes majorities with other counties breaking about even, assure Gudger's election.

Anson Democrats Happy.

Wadesboro, Nov. 9.—Anson county Democrats are happy today. The State and county election passed off quietly with an increased majority for all Democratic nominees and correspondingly decreased Republican votes. The falling off in the Republican vote is ascribed by active politicians to two reasons: the coming of Marion Butler to Wadesboro and the trouble in Republican ranks. Parker, Republican candidate for Congress, ran ahead of his ticket a few votes but only polled three-fourths of the vote of two years ago and the dissatisfaction with the new party management had much to do with it. For many years Mr. J. L. Matheson has been the county Republican chairman and at the convention this year the Morehead-Butler followers seceded and formed a new committe and selected Mr. C. A. Bland as chairman. The Democrats went on about their business and succeeded in giving Page, Democratic candidate for Congress an increased majority. The State and county ticket is elected by a majority of 1,335 votes in the county.

Returns from Nash.

Nashville, N. C., Nov. 9.—With part of the vote missing, it is estimated that Pou's majority in Nash over Cooley, for Congress, is a thousand. The Democratic State ticket is elected by a larger majority. The whole county ticket is elected by majorities ranging from 600 to 1,300. The exact figures cannot be given until official returns are sent in tomorrow. The proposition to place county officers on salary has carried by a large majority.

Vote in Columbus.

Whiteville, N. C., Nov. 9.—There was never a more quiet and good humored election held in Columbus county than the contest yesterday. A few voters were challenged by either side, but it was accepted in good part. In the 11 precincts heard from Tuesday night, by comparing the vote with that of 1908 it was found that the Democrats had made a gain of 204. They also carried every precinct in the county, including Evergreen and Boardman, which have heretofore gone Republican. Every township now in Columbus county is Democratic. This is due to the fact that a number of old line Republicans voted the Democratic ticket and most of the young men registering now are Democrats. On the Republican ticket Mr. Seth L. Smith, their candidate for Sheriff, led the ticket in nearly every precinct. There was some scratching, but not more so than at most elections. It is estimated that 15 Democrats scratched Godwin in Whiteville and in other precincts it was about the same. The vote polled was unusually small, or Godwin's majority would have been much larger. There was a noticeable apathy among the voters, both Democrats and Republicans.

Increased in Wayne.

Goldsboro, N. C., Nov. 9.—Elections held throughout the county yesterday gave the county and legislative candidates an increased majority, averaging 1,150.

900 in Cumberland.

Fayetteville, N. C., Nov. 9.—Unusual slowness of election officers renders it impossible to give at this time full returns of Cumberland county's vote. The canvassing board meets here at noon tomorrow when the vote can be obtained. Twelve precincts out of 23 give the State Democratic ticket 60 majority. Eleven precincts give Godwin for Congress 516 majority. Reliable estimates place both the State and Congressional majorities at 900.

Gudgor's Majority 1,200.

Asheville, N. C., Nov.9.—J. M. Gudger, Jr., Democrat, will have a majority close to, if not exceeding 1,200 over John G. Grant, in the Tenth Congressional District. It was a regular landslide for Gudger.

Grant only carried four of the 13 counties and lost in all except Henderson, his home county, where he gained by 100. Western North Carolina put the stamp of its disapproval of Butlerism making gains in all county offices. Buncombe went Democratic by an average of 800. Robert R. Reynolds is elected solicitor of the 15th District by at least 700, the first time the Democrats ever carried the District.

AFFAIRS AT WHITEVILLE.

Much Interest in Contest—Blind Child Burned—Other Notes.

(Special Star Correspondnece.)

Whiteville, N. C., Nov. 9.—There was almost as much interest in Whiteville in the outcome of the Wilmington Star's contest as in the elections. When the mail came in Tuesday morning the office was surrounded by a large crowd to see the winners. Our people are all delighted over the success of little Miss Blannie Baldwin, who won a nice gold watch. She is one of the brightest and most popular little misses in our town. The perfect fairness in which the contest was conducted is appreciated by all.

The little blind daughter of Mrs. Zellie Stanley, who lives near Mollie, in this county, was fatally burned the other day, and after lingering three days in agony, passed away. She was supposed to be standing near the fire, when her clothes caught. Mrs. Harry Lennon, near New Hope, also barely escaped being burned to death. She was standing near the fire-place when her dress caught. Her mother being near by, smothered the flames, but her hands were badly burned. At Old Zion, the little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Willie O. Anderson escaped a serious burn. She was standing with her back to the fire when her dress caught and it was very nearly burned off before assistance came. While badly burned she will recover.

Hon. J. G. Butler, one of our leading business men and an ex-member of the Legislature, is still seriously ill at his home near Pireway.

While the cotton crop in this county is generally short, in some favored localities unusual yields have been made. Mr. Charles Lennon, living near Clarkton, has already picked nine bales from six acres, and there is plenty left in the field.

The Farmers' Union is growing very fast in this county, since that great Chadbourn rally. A new union was organized this week at Clarendon, and all the old lodges report large additions to their membership.

Mr. Henry Dyson and family, of Wilmington, are visiting friends around Happy Hill in this county.

SUFFRAGISTS TO CELEBRATE.

Big Mass Meeting Planned Tomorrow Night in New York.

New York, Nov. 9.—New York suffragists will hold a mass meeting at Cooper Union tomorrow night, to celebrate the victory for woman suffrage won in the State election in Washington yesterday. The meeting will be one of the largest ever held in the city by the advocates of votes for women. Mrs. O. H. P. Belmont and Mrs. Clarence Mackey are expected to speak.

The leaders of the movement in this State who sent over $2,000 to Washington within the past year to aid the figut, are overjoyed at the result.

"That makes the fifth star on our banner," said Mrs. Ida Husted Harper today.

POPULATION OF LOS ANGELES.

Increase of Over 200,000 in Ten Years. —Census Figures.

Washington, Nov. 9.—The population of Los Angeles, Cal., is 319,198, as compared with 102,479 in 1900, as announced by the census bureau today. This is an increase since 1900 or 215,719 or 211.5 per cent.

JAILOR KILLED IN KENTUCKY.

Shot Down on Street by Noted Feudist at Jackson.

Jackson. Ky., Nov. 9.—Wesley Turner, jailor of Breataitt county, was shot and killed on a street near the jail last nigat by "Bad Jake" Noble, a noted feudist and a prominent figure in the Hargis and Cockrill feuds. No cause for the killing s known. Turner and Noble had been close friends.

Shall Women Vote?

If they did, millions would vote Dr. King's New Life Pills the true remedy for women. For banishing dull, fagged feelings, backache or headache, constipation, dispelling colds, imparting appetite and toning up the system, they're unequalled. Easy, safe, sure. 25c at Robert R. Bellamy's.

RHEUMATISM
PAINFUL & DANGEROUS

Rheumatism is due to a diseased condition of the blood cells and corpuscles, brought about by an excess of uric acid in the circulation. It is not only a very painful disease but an extremely dangerous trouble. The briny, acrid state of the blood gradually forms a coating over the muscles, and by depositing a cement-like substance in the joints frequently terminates fatally, or leaves its victim a hopeless cripple. It is natural to "doctor" the spot that hurts, and it is quite right to use liniments, hot applications, etc., to get temporary relief from a painful joint or swollen tendon; but Rheumatism is not a skin disease, and such things, when depended on alone make one careless, and the disease gets a firmer hold on the blood. S. S. S. cures the disease because it is the greatest of all blood purifiers. It goes into the circulation, and removes every particle of the irritating uric acid, builds up the blood, makes it rich and oily, and in this way prepares it for the proper nourishment of all joints, muscles, nerves and bones. If you have Rheumatism, get the uric acid out of the blood by taking S. S. S., a purely vegetable medicine, and enjoy freedom from its misery. Book on Rheumatism and any medical advice free to all who write.

M. and the "Coast Line Florida Mail" will leave 9:30 P. M. and arrive 5:59 A. M. Upon the inauguration of the "New York and Florida Special" January 9th, that train will leave New York 1:26 P. M., and arrive 4:06 P. M.

It will be seen from the foregoing, that passengers will have considerable advantages, not only from the convenience of reaching the station, which is centrally located and adjacent to street car lines, extending to all parts of the City, but in a later departure and an earlier arrival in the City.

The travel to the down town section will be provided for by trains from the Manhattan Transfer Station, located near Harrison, N. J., and at which all through trains from the South will stop. They will be taken to the passenger station in Jersey City and can reach the lower Manhattan by the Hudson and Manhattan Tubes, or by ferry to Cortlandt, or Desbrosses Streets, which service will be continued.

Passengers to and from Brooklyn will transfer in Pennsylvania station, to and from Flatbush Avenue, Brooklyn, via the tubes under the East River, thereby saving much time and annoyance.

Under the new arrangement, effective November 27th, all Pullman cars operated to and from New York over the Atlantic Coast Line will be electric lighted and equipped with electric fans.

The location of the station appeals directly to the hotel guests, the shopper, the amusement seeker, the buisiness man, the professional man and every class of travel to and from New York, over the Atlantic Coast Line, as the new station is in the very heart of the hotel district, only one block from Broadway, two blocks from Fifth Avenue, and one block from the center of the retail dry goods section, which is supposed to be the busiest part of New York City.

NEAR DEATH BY SMOTHERING

Patched Up Relief Temporarily, But Insistent Husband Finally Effects Deliverance.

Stuart, Va.—"There never has been," says Mrs. Helen Dalton, "and never will be, a medicine to compare with Cardui. I suffered for years, and would often almost smother to death. Medicines patched me up for a while, but then I would get worse again. Finally my husband wanted me to try Cardui, so he bought me a bottle, and I tried it. It did me more good than all the other medicines I had taken. I have induced many of my friends to try Cardui, and they all say they have been benefitted by its use."

If you are weak and ailing, think what it would mean to recover as rapidly and surely as did Mrs. Dalton.

Cardui will certainly do for you what it has done for thousands of others, with similar troubles.

No medicine without merit could remain in such constant use and show such a continued increase in sales as Cardui has done. Judge a medicine, as well as a man, by success. Cardui is successful.

Cardui brought health and happiness to thousands of weak women. Why not to you?

Try it.

Fresh Air in Winter

In winter, it is hard to get fresh air in certain rooms. Some rooms in a house are usually colder than others, and if you open the windows it is hard again to heat the room properly.

If you keep the windows closed you don't get fresh air; if you keep them open you cannot quickly reheat the room. The solves the difficulty. You can leave the windows in a room open all day in winter, and when you close them apply a match to a Perfection Oil Heater and heat the room to any temperature you desire in a few minutes.

PERFECTION SMOKELESS OIL HEATER

Absolutely smokeless and odorless

The Perfection Oil Heater is finished in japan or nickel. It burns for nine hours. It has a cool handle and a damper top. It has an automatic-locking flame spreader, which prevents the wick from being turned high enough to smoke, and is easy to remove and drop back so that the wick can be quickly cleaned. An indicator always shows amount of oil in the font

The filler-cap does not need to be screwed down. It is put in like a cork in a bottle, and is attached to the font by a chain.

The burner body or gallery cannot become wedged, because of a new device in construction, and consequently, it can always be easily unscrewed in an instant for rewicking. The Perfection Oil Heater is strong, durable, well made, built for service, yet light and ornamental.

THE MORNING STAR

Published by the WILMINGTON STAR COMPANY (Inc.) Wilmington, N. C.

Entered as second-class matter at the postoffice at Wilmington, N. C., under act of Congress, March 2nd 1874.

FULL ASSOCIATED PRESS REPORT.

PUBLISHERS' ANNOUNCEMENT.

THE MORNING STAR, the oldest daily newspaper in North Carolina, is published daily except Monday, at $6 per year, $3 for six months, $1.50 for three months, 50 cents for one month, served by carrier in the city or by mail.

THE SUNDAY STAR, by mail, one year, $1; six months, 50 cents; three months, 25 cents.

ADVERTISING RATES may be had on application and advertisers may feel assured that through the columns of this paper they may reach all Wilmington, Eastern Carolina and contiguous territory in South Carolina.

Obituary sketches, cards or thanks, communications espousing the cause of a private enterprise or a political candidate, and like matter, will be charged at the rate of 10 cents per line, or if paid cash in advance, a half rate will be allowed. Announcements of fairs, festivals, balls, hops, picnics, society meetings, political meetings, etc., will be charged under same conditions except so much thereof as may be of news value to readers of the paper.

Advertisements discontinued before expiration of contracts are charged transient rates for time actually published. Payment for transient advertisements must be cash in advance. Contract advertisers will not be allowed to exceed their space at same rates or advertise anything foreign to their regular business without extra charge. Advertisements to occupy special place will be charged for according to position desired.

TELEPHONES: Business Office No. 51; Editorial and Local rooms No. 61. Call either if the other doesn't answer.

COMMUNICATIONS, unless they contain important news, or discuss briefly and properly subjects of real interest, are not wanted; and if acceptable in every other way, they will be invariably rejected unless the real name of the author accompanies the same, not necessarily for publication but as a guarantee of good faith.

Thursday, November 10, 1910.

Sober common sense beats hysteria when an election is ot be held.

Bologna sausage makers in Germany have gone on a strike. This is calculated to bring on the horse laugh among epicureans who indulge in bologna.

Standpatters will be lonesome in the next House of Representatives at Washington, but Uncle Joe will be there to occupy a seat as the chief relic of revision of the tariff upward "in the House of its friends."

President Taft went from Washington to Cincinnati to vote on Tuesday, but he voted with the wrong crowd and got left. The "judicially minded President" should have been more discriminating in his judgment.

Recent Republican recruits from the Democratic ranks now realize how easy it is to become a Jonah without sufficient provocation. A change of convictions gets about as much for any man as fishing for luck in a sea of troubles.

No doubt ex-Governor Chas. E. Hughes, now on the bench of the Supreme Court of the United States, is now gratified to know that he was shelved in the Supreme Court instead of being left in New York to take to the cyclone cellar with Roosevelt and Stimson.

In the New York campaign Stimson declared himself to be the candidate for all the Hughes issues. As he can't put the blame on the Hughes issues for his defeat, he will be compelled to have some kind of worrisome opinions of his nominator and New Nationalism.

"Should women engage in joint debates?" Personally we would be quite wary of accepting a challenge of that kind but we would favor and enjoy such a debate if the fellow on the negative side of the discussion was an individual that needed taking down a button hole.

John A. Dix, Democratic Governor-elect of New York, made a fine campaigner, parrying with marked ability the onslaught of Teddy the Terrible, and his man Stimson. Some of Dix's stump names for Roosevelt were apt and will stick—"The apostle of tumult," "the protagonist of misrepresentation," "the destroying shadow," etc.

Roosevelt wouldn't comment on the election returns Tuesday night. We venture the assertion, however, that he thinks all was lost save "new nationalism." He is egotistic enough to entertain the idea that it was Taft who was repudiated at the polls on Tuesday and that it now remains for him to save the Republican party.

President Taft wouldn't have anything to say about the election results. Probably he felt a delicacy to 'articulate' in a manner that would reflect upon "My Distinguished Predecessor" for having thrust himself and New Nationalism in a campaign in which they clearly did not belong and for which there was no room or excuse.

The Hon. John Motley Morehead knew all right when it wouldn't be safe to run for Congress in the Fifth District, but he didn't know beforehand what Butlerism would do for respectableism in the Republican party in North Carolina. Mr. Morehead's latest acquisition of experience was unfortunate for him, but it was fortunate for North Carolina. Many thanks for his immature political judgment.

POLITICAL DEBATES.

Some of the joint political discussions between Democratic and Republican candidates during the recent campaign in North Carolina have been neither edifying nor illuminating. Indeed, some of them have been more of a "joint rantangle" than they have been debates on the actual issues in the campaign. Personalities, invective and assaults on individual records largely took the place of enlightening speeches upon political topics. We fail to see what good can be accomplished by such joint debates but it cannot be denied that the attrition brought about by striking political flint and steel together in a way to "make the sparks fly" develops all there is in a man's ability to handle himself on the hustings. Now comes the esteemed Charlotte Chronicle saying this:

"The High Point Enterprise thinks that the time is not going to be far off when the political debates will be less the 'campaign of denunciation and epithet', and more of the intellectual debate. 'The American people,' it says, 'are fast raising the universal issue against 'rank partisanship,' regardless of whatever party it may be in.' The time it speaks of is not going to come in North Carolina as long as the present line of politicians is alive and kicking."

We doubt very seriously whether we have seen the last of joint debates or not, or whether we really wish to see the last of them. Joint discussions pitched on a high plane will bring out the best there is in a man and if the parties know their nominees will be faced on the stump by strong and able men they will nominate only men of ability and tact to fight their battles. Whenever a candidate is a fit subject for denunciation, epithet, and vituperation, he is not a fit individual to participate in a joint debate. For that reason, we approve the refusal of our Democratic politicians to meet Marion Butler on the hustings. Such a debate naturally would have invoked personalities and aroused the worst passions of those hearing the discussions. No good could have been accomplished and probably much harm might have been the result. However, between men of character and ability, joint discussions are well calculated to develop men and give them reputation as politicians, orators and statesmen. The joint debate is alright if the courticies and amenities are recognized.

TO MARK FEDERAL GRAVES AT SALISBURY.

In the National cemetery at Salisbury, N. C., 11,000 Federal soldiers whose lives were sacrificed in the Civil War, lie buried. They died in the midst of the "enemy's country" but they rest in a restored Union in the midst of friends made by the long years of peace which have intervened since the rude alarm of war.

Though buried under Southern skies far away from home the sleeping soldiers of the Union have not been forgotten but their memories will be fittingly perpetuated by their comrades and friends at home and revered by those in whose midst their ashes mingle with Southern soil. On next Wednesday, November 16th, a handsome monument will be unveiled in the Salisbury National cemetery in memory of the Pennsylvania dead buried there during the war. The monument has been completed and will be unveiled under direction of the Pennsylvania Memorial Association which will hold appropriate and impressive ceremonies on the occasion. Quite a large party of Pennsylvania veterans and distinguished men from that State will be in attendance. Addresses will be delivered by Gov. E. S. Stuart of Pennsylvania, Lieut. Gov. Robert S. Murphy, of that State, Gov. William W. Kitchin, of North Carolina, Mayor A. L. Smoot, of Salisbury, and other leading citizens who will participate in the entertainment of the visitors who will come to North Carolina for this interesting occasion. Special music has been prepared for the ceremonies and a number of well known Pennsylvania ladies as well as ladies of Salisbury will participate in the exercises of the day.

Events of this kind are exceedingly interesting and beneficial. All of North Carolina will welcome the visiting Pennsylvanians and share with them the splendid spirit which prompts them to perpetuate the memories of the martyrs who died in a cause which is sacred to them. It is a fine illustration of American devotion to those whom they regard as their heroes, and there is hope of the country as long as that spirit prevails among the united people of our Republic. The Pennsylvania monument to be erected next Wednesday will be the second in the Salisbury cemetery, the first one having been erected two years ago by the State of Maine No doubt other monuments sooner or later will be erected in memory of the soldiers of other States who are counted among the army of the dead at Salisbury.

Roosevelt's own district gave Dix 218 votes to 158 for his man Stimson. Possibly Col. Roosevelt's chickens had scratched up the gardens of some of his neighbors.

CONGRESSMAN STEDMAN.

The Star felicitates the Hon. Chas. M. Stedman upon his election to Congress from the Fifth Congressional District. We congratulate North Carolina upon the election of Maj. Stedman. This former distinguished citizen of Wilmington was the Democrat of Democrats to redeem the Fifth District and he has done so in a triumphant manner after a canvass marked with laborious work and distinguished for the vigor and ability displayed by Maj. Stedman on the stump. The Major is one of the State's most brilliant, effective and convincing campaigners and the Fifth district has conferred an honor upon the State in electing that gallant Confederate soldier, true Carolinian and able lawyer to a seat in Congress. He will be a distinguishing figure in the North Carolina delegation in the next Congress and his presence in the National House of Representatives will honor the State to which he is devoted and which in honoring him has honored itself. Maj. Stedman resides in Greensboro and he closed his campaign there with a splendid speech on Monday night. Of him and his speech the Greensboro Record of Tuesday says:

"Speakers in numbers have visited Greensboro in this campaign; the big speakers, the little speakers have all been heard; all of them have had large crowds, but it was left to Major Stedman last night to make the boys yell. Others received great applause, but last night Major Stedman not only was given applause from hands and feet, but from the voice. The boys yelled as of old. As one old campaigner said, it reminded one of the old days when the "nigger" was a factor. It did seem, that having been threshed over and over by all the speakers, the tariff would prove a dry subject, yet in the hands of the speaker he put new life in it; he went off on a new tack; he put the cost of a piece of goods down, then added the tariff tax and showed what a blanket cost—the ordinary blankets. Along side of this he took the luxuries and showed the discrimination. It was a vote-getter and when it is remembered that he has been making the same kind of speeches all over the district, no wonder his party is filled with strong hope. By the way, Major Stedman has made more speeches than any man in the campaign in the State and right now is as spry as a high school boy on a football team."

The people of Wilmington and the Cape Fear country will specially rejoice over Major Stedman's election, and in Wilmington Tuesday night when election bulletins announced that he had been elected a rousing cheer was sent up by the crowd gathered around the canvass where the Star was displaying the election returns. It is gratifying to know he is as popular in his new home as he was in Wilmington. He has impressed upon the people of the Fifth District his eminent ability and his election indicates that he has won the confidence and support of the people. He not only won but deserved his election, and in the next Congress he will be in a position to give his State the crowning benefit of his life by devoting to her his eminent qualifications and ripe experience.

Major Stedman is one of the most distinguished members of the North Carolina bar and is known from one end of the State to the other. He has served as Lieutenant Governor of the State and has been prominent in politics for 30 years or more. In previous campaigns he has done yeoman service for the Democracy from the sea to the mountains and we shall never forget the magnificent campaign speeches which he delivered when the late Oliver H. Dockery was finally defeated at the head of the Republican party which he led with more ability than has ever been displayed by any Republican leader since the days of the late Judge Thomas Settle.

THE OLD NORTH STATE.

"Carolina! Carolina! May Heaven's Blessings Attend Her!" Well they have, and one blessing was emphasized on Tuesday when the patriotic sons of the Good Old North State rallied to her defense and defeated a political movement which threatened her happiness and menaced her progress. The great majority against Butlerism and Republicanism is cause for rejoicing throughout the State. It is cause for rejoicing, not only among those who voted to accomplish the result of Tuesday's election, but of those who had judgment and temporary interests led them to cast in their lots with the losing party.

The great Democratic victory in North Carolina was logical and just and sane. There was no reason on earth why the Republican party, either with its past record or its present promise of respectability, should have been given a lease of power in this State. There was no reason for it Nationally and there could have been no justification of it so far as the State was concerned. The common sense and patriotism of North Carolinians recognized that and so the voters of the State decided emphatically that they considered their State safe in the hands of Democracy. They decided what was best for the happiness and contentment of the people. They decided on a course which was the best guarantee of a continuation of the satisfactory educational and industrial development of the State. They have kept in control the party which would do most for the future of North Carolina and they have kept at the head of affairs in the State men who will inspire confidence at home and abroad.

It was a proud day for North Carolina when on Tuesday she routed the Republican party foot and dragoon. The State officials, though few in number in this "off year," were elected overwhelmingly and the people have done themselves proud in electing a solid delegation to Congress. For the first time in many years North Carolina will send ten Congressmen to Washington instead of seven Democrats and three Republicans elected two years ago. Few of the counties have elected local Republican officials but on the whole the verdict at the polls on Tuesday makes North Carolina a safe Democratic State, no longer to be considered "doubtful" by Republican National administrations and office seekers ready to take to Republicanism to gratify small ambitions. North Carolina's representatives in the Sixty Second Congress will be: Hon. John H. Small, First District; Hon. Claude Kitchin, Second District; Dr. Dr. John M. Faison, Third District; Hon. Edward W. Pou, Fourth District; Maj. Chas. M. Stedman, Fifth District; Hon. Hanibal L. Godwin, Sixth District; Hon. Robert N. Page, Seventh District; Hon. R. L. Doughton, Eighth District; Hon. E. Yates Webb, Ninth District; Hon. John M. Grudger, Tenth District.

A Democratic administration in North Carolina insures good and economic government along progressive lines. It will make for confidence in North Carolina throughout the financial and industrial centres of the world, and now that the campaign is over, let men of all parties forget the differences, disagreements and bitterness of the campaign and unite for the upbuilding and progress of North Carolina. Naturally, geographically and logically, North Carolina is destined to be one of the greatest States in this Union, but her progress depends upon the united efforts of Carolinians without regard to politics. Let us all go to work for the development and glory of the best State in the Union.

Evidently Florida didn't believe a Democratic victory could properly be celebrated in dry territory.

It seems that New York didn't stand much for a campaign of Rough Riderism, violence and vituperation.

"Don't listen to old women's talk," is the advice given by Laura Jean Libby. We always thought it was the song and dance of the young ones that should put a fellow on his guard.

The lions which escaped Col. Roosevelt and succeeded in hiding in the African jungles, will roar with delight if they can only find out what happened to the Mighty Hunter on election day in New York.

CURRENT COMMENT.

Down in North Carolina, the newspapers find little time for the discussion of Colonel Roosevelt. They have ex-Senator Marion Butler on their hands, and they are dealing with him even more vigorously than certain of the New York papers are dealing with the Colonel.—Norfolk Landmark.

The news that none of the standard makes of flying machines can be purchased by outsiders for love or money, on account of an agreement to that effect among the manufacturers, illustrates the mournful fact that combinations in restraint of trade are not confined to the surface of the earth.—Charlotte Observer.

According to a recent decision of the United States Supreme Court, it is not a violation of the consitutional rights of a defendant in a murder trial if jurymen are allowed to go to their homes or to read the daily papers while the trial is in progress. This disposes of the antiquated notion that to be a competent juryman a man must not read the papers or have opinions of his own.—Washington Herald.

The other day the Record called attntion to the fact that Roosevelt was the first and only man to bring disgrace to the office of an ex-president. Only the other night in his own State in the city of New York, the mention of his name was hissed time and again. Was the like ever before heard of or even imagined? But he brought it about by his own methods which have outraged decency the country over.—Greensboro Record.

It will be remembered that the first successful flight ever made in a airship in this country was made on the North Carolina coast by the Wright brothers. The second appearance of air craft in the State will be Thursday, when The News brings the Curtiss bi-plane. The newspapers of the State have been kind in advertising the event and from present appearances the crowd will be enormous. Aviator McCurdy, who has already made an international reputation, will be the man to manipulate the machine, and the show will undoubtedly be worth the price of admission. —Charlotte News.

Through the Wadesboro Messenger and Intelligence, Judge R. T. Bennett is adovcating small farms. "To do our best with large farms," he says, "we would cut most of them into one-eighth, one-fourth, one-half and less. 'Tis not in our ken to tell it, but such cutting up produces a natural desire to improve and adorn these fractions. To profit by cropping, the shadow of the owner should fall upon the land whenever the sunshine admits his shadow. We can't make money by leaving the farm to a hireling, an alter ego in the master's stead." A more truthful deliverance than that was never made.—Charlotte Chronicle.

The Washington Post complains that—"Col. Roosevelt made two speeches in Ohio yestrday for the Republican party, and in neither of them, so far as the dispatches show, did he ask Ohio Republicans to stand by the great Ohioan in the White House!" Of course he did not ask them to stand by Mr. Taft. Why should he when he is seeking to destroy Mr. Taft politically and establish himself in Mr. Taft's place? Standing by Mr. Taft is the very thing Mr. Roosevelt does not want the voters to do. Every New York Republican who votes for Mr. Stimson today is voting to help Theodore Roosevelt cut William H. Taft's political throat.—New York World.

In New York certain virtuous Democrats are pretending to be horrified at the spectacle of Mr. Roosevelt joining hands with Mr. Hearst in the fight on Candidate Dix. And equally virtuous Republicans profess to be similarly amazed because Mr. Dix accepts the support of Tammany's head. Every candidate in every campaign will welcome the vote of any man who is inclined to support him, and who has a right to vote. The men who are howling at Murphy's support of Dix would have been overjoyed had the Tammany chief thrown his support their way, and those who are amazed at Roosevelt would have turned somersaults of delight had Hearst declared for their ticket.—Baltimore Evening Sun.

The District Federal Court of Oklahoma has upheld the principle of State rights in a decision just rendered. The case was one in which a negro had applied to the court for an injunction restraining the State authorities from preventing him from voting in the coming election through the operation of what is known as the "grandfather clause" in the constitution of that State. The case went to the District Federal Court, which has handed down a decision declaring it has no jurisdiction in the case.

The same case has been appealed from the State courts of the United States Supreme Court, and the decision of that tribunal will be awaited with a great deal of interest. It is believed that court will sustain the decision of the lower court. A case somewhat similar went up from Montgomery, Ala., a few years ago, and the United States Supreme Court sustained the State law.—Columbus Enquirer-Sun.

FEDERAL COURT BEGINS

Fall Term Convened Yesterday With Judge H. G. Connor Presiding. Several Cases Were Disposed of During Day.

With Judge H. G. Connor, of Wilson, presiding and all the other officers and attaches of the court in attendance, the regular Fall term of United States District and Circuit Courts convened at 10 o'clock yesterday morning in the United States Court room in the postoffice building. Criminal matters are now being heard and District Attorney H. F. Seawell, of Carthage, stated yesterday afternoon that this side of the docket, unusually light, would very likely be cleared by Friday. On Saturday the civil calendar will be taken up.

Soon after court convened yesterday morning the grand jury was drawn by Arnold Holden, the bright four-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Holden, as follows: Messrs. G. A. Whitley, H. W. Baldwin, D. P. McKethan, S. J. Bryan, C. M. Middleton, J. F. Herring, M. Hewett, R. M. Williams, William Strickland, M. Rathjen, L. M. Cooper, J. B. Driver, H. J. Wessell, Maye Foy, Jos. D. Smith, Albert Carnegia, J. S. Monroe and J. M. McCormick. Mr. Maye Foy was appointed foreman of the grand jury, after which Judge Connor began his able charge.

Consuming about an hour's time, Judge Gonnor gave a luminous and interesting exposition of the duties of the grand jurors. The size of the criminal docket, he said, indicated that law and order was being observed better by the people of this section, a matter of congratulation. It is the duty of the grand jury, he said, to take cognizance of all offenses against the laws of the United States and then touched upon the principal matters usually brought before the tribunal. He explained quite fully the different positions of the Federal and State courts concerning the liquor traffic, the government being interested only in those matters where there is an attempt to sell or manufacture intoxicating liquors in defiance of the revenue laws by failure to pay the license fees. In speaking of the State prohibition law he said that it was a pleasure for the United States Courts to aid in upholding the laws of the State wherever possible and where there is no conflict with the laws of the governmental tribunals. Judge Connor said, in this connection, that drunkenness had decreased in North Carolina to an appreciable extent.

He said that the State has the power to pass laws regulating the manufacture and sale of liquor within the State but cannot prevent the shipment of whiskey into the State, because this would be a violation of the Interstate commerce laws. The Federal government, however, has passed laws which are of material assistance to the States and he then explained the laws which make the express and transportation companies require that the person to whom whiskey is shipped sign a receipt for the whiskey, or give a written order where someone else is sent for the shipment, and also requiring that the packages containing whiskey shall be plainly labeled.

Judge Connor concluded his charge with reference to the enforcement of the pure-food laws by both State and government officers, calling attention to the seizure by government officers of a shipment of damaged corn from a Western State.

Court then took up the matters on the docket. Chas. Crumpler, a white man, of Sampson county, entered a plea of submission to a charge of violating pension law, through his attorney, John Kerr, Esq. The defendant was charged with collecting a pension which was made out to the order of a negro who had died two weeks before the amount was paid, Crumpler having been accustomed to signing papers for the negro. The defendant lived about 16 miles from the negro and he contended that he did not know the negro was dead when the money was collected. Owing to the fact that there was no evidence of any wilful attempt to defraud, judgment was suspended upon payment of the costs.

At the afternoon session of court several matters were disposed of. Ral Mitchell, colored, of Robeson county, was found guilty of retailing and was sentenced to six months in the county jail and to pay a fine of $100 and the costs. Robert Herring, a white man, of Robeson county, was found not guilty of a charge of retailing. Rurant Locklear, of Robeson, was found guilty and judgment in this case was reserved.

About the most important cases is one from Cumberland county in which peonage is charged. This case will be called for trial some time during the week and will very likely be heard at this term.

Assistant District Attorney I. M. Meekins, of Elizabeth City, arrived last night and will assist District Attorney Seawell in looking after the interests of the government. District Attorney Seawell was accompanied by his private secretary, Mr. A. W. White.

There was a settlement yesterday of the recent libel of 400 acres of corn meal seized by the government inspectors. The meal was consigned to The Stone Co. The libel proceedings were terminated by the filing of bonds in the sum of $500, after which the meal was ordered returned to the consignees. This is the first prosecution brought in this district under the Pure Food and Drug act.

FOR A SPLENDID STRUCTURE

Contract Awarded to Mr. Joseph Schad for Wilmington Savings & Trust Co., Building—Magnificent Vault.

A marvel in both fire and burglar proof Construction will be presented in a few weeks to Wilmington people in the completion of the handsome new building which will be erected by the Wilmington Savings & Trust Co., as its home, on Princess, near Front street, contracts having been awarded yesterday and the day before to Mr. Joseph Schad, the well known government contractor, for the building, and to the York Safe & Lock Co., of York, Pa. for one of the most modern vaults and safety equipments in the South.

The building will be the only fireproof structure in the city and so safe will be the building that not even insurance is required. The floors and roof are to be of reinforced concrete and there will be absolutely not a splinter of wood in the entire structure, even the front doors and windows to be of copper, the remainder metal frames. The front will be of limestone and of most attractive design. The floor will be of terazza with marble wainscoating, cornice and pilasters of ornamental plaster. Contractor Schad says it will be the handsomest bank building in the State. Its dimensions will be 31 feet frontage and 100 feet long. It will be lighted with prism lights in the day and attractive electric fixtures at night. There will be two vaults, one in the basement and one on the first floor. The heating will be by hot water. The plans and specifications are by Architect Jos. F. Leitner, who had associated with him Architect W. J. Wilkins, of Florence, S. C.

No less a marvel in construction will be the vaults and equipment to be placed in the bank. The contract was placed yesterday through Mr. F. S. MacMullen, of Baltimore, the Southern representative of the company, and it is understood that the cost of the vault and equipment will be in the neighborhood of $10,000.

The contract provides for the most modern and approved construction throughout, and care has been made to safeguard vaults and contents against mob or burglar attack, as well as being made absolutely fireproof.

The outer walls will be of brick and concrete construction, reinforced with 80 pound steel rails and the lining will be of alternating layers of Bessemer and Chrome steel. As a fire protection, six inches of asbestos lining will cover the steel armor plates. The vault is to be reinforced in such a manner that it would stand intact, no matter what weight of debris might fall on it through the burning of adjacent buildings. The bank building will be absolutely fire-proof in itself, and beyond smoke damage, no harm would be done if a cord of wood were burned in the middle of its floor.

The door of the vault will be heavier and thicker than any similar door in the State and will be protected by a triple movement time-lock, and two combination locks. There will be an inside or day door also amply protected by combination locking devices.

The Savings & Trust Company has had an eye to appearance as well as to security in specifying this vault, the entire interial to be of highly polished and burnished steel, as will also be the 400 safe deposit boxes and security lockers. The floor will be tiled, over steel lining.

Through the use of a steel partition, one-half of the vault will be used entirely by renters of safe deposit boxes, while the company will utilize the other portion for its own cash and securities. Just outside the vault, a number of private rooms have been provided for the exclusive use of safe deposit box patrons.

It is the proud boast of all the builders that not one of the modern vaults, built on plans accepted by the Savings & Trust Company, has ever been burglarized. It is stated that a professional cracksman could drill for a week on one of the plates that will make up their vault lining without being able to leave a scratch to evidence his efforts.

All in all, the vault that the Trust Company proposes to build will compare favorably with those in the larger cities, and the patrons of the bank and the community at large are to be congratulated that the Company is not to be satisfied with cheaper or inadequate construction.

The York Safe & Lock Co., also built the handsome vault, constructed along similar lines, recently installed by the Murchison National Bank.

HOW CHRONIC COUGHS

Are Being Cured by Vinol—An Account of One Case.

New Haven, Conn.—"I was troubled with a most persistent chronic cough for a long time and had tried so many remedies that I was discouraged. I was persuaded by my friends to try Vinol. I must say that I had little confidence, but I made up my mind to give it a fair trial. Before I finished my first bottle of Vinol I commenced to notice an improvement in my general condition. After taking the second bottle, my cough left me, and I must say I never felt better in my life—all due to the use of Vinol. I can also recommend Vinol to anyone in a run down condition as the best possible remedy." (Name furnished on request.)

It is the combined action of the medicinal elements of the cods' livers aided by the blood-making and strength-creating properties of tonic iron which makes Vinol so efficient in curing chronic coughs, colds and bronchitis—at the same time building up the weakened, run-down system. Vinol contains no oil and tastes good.

Try a bottle of Vinol with the understanding that your money will be returned if it does not help you. Robt. R. Bellamy, Druggist, Wilmington, N. C.

PUSHING OBSTRUCTION LAW

Chief of Police Notifies Telephone Company That Poles on Sidewalks Must Come Down. Points to Contract.

That the Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph Company is violating Sec. 5, of Art. XIV of the codified city ordinance, relating to streets and sidewalks, prohibiting the obstruction of any sidewalk or street, is the opinion of Chief of Police N. J. Williams, who yesterday morning notified the local manager of the company that the telephone poles located on the sidewalks in every portion of the city must come down and unless the company showed a willingness to comply with the mandate by this morning action would be taken in the courts.

Chief Williams says that when he notified Mr. H. McA. Rose, the local manager, that the company was violating the law by obstructing the sidewalks with poles and that the same had to be abated the contract between the city and the telephone company was pulled on him, this giving the company the right to use the streets and sidewalks, using care, however, that the same do not interfere or intercept the free use of the streets or sidewalks. Chief Williams takes the position that the section of the ordinance which the Aldermen have instructed him to enforce to the letter, was adopted since the agreement between the city and telephone company was made and is therefore applicable to obstructions by telephone poles as well as anything else and says he feels it his duty to require the removal of the poles. Taking some remarks of the city attorney at meetings of the Aldermen as a basis for his position, the chief says that he does not believe that the city has the legal right to grant to the telephone company the privilege of obstructing the sidewalks or streets.

The following is the section of the ordinance, the orders to enforce which has caused such a stir:

"Sec. 5. No person shall place in any street or alley, nor upon any sidewalk, any boxes, casks, crates, or other obstructions. Provided however, that building material earth, and other obstructions of like character, may, by permission of the Mayor, in writing, be allowed, under such restrictions as he may impose. And every person having obtained such permission and placing the obstructions, shall remove the same when notified by the Mayor so to do. Every person offending against these provisions shall be fined twenty-five ($25) dollars for each and every offense, and a like sum for each and every day that such obstructions are permitted to remain. And all persons placing any obstructions as aforesaid, whether with or without permission, shall be liable for all damages or injury occasioned thereby. Provided, that nothing herein contained shall prevent persons from loading or unloading any wagon, cart or dray, at any house, warehouse or store."

Chief Williams says that his only purpose in ordering the telephone poles down is to carry out what he conceives to be the instructions of the aldermanic body. The Aldermen instructed him to enforce the law relative to obstructing the sidewalk and the chief is of the opinion that the telephone poles are as much an obstruction as goods and products displayed on the sidewalk, hence his action. In the language of a well known magistrate of this county, "That am all there are to it." It was stated in yesterday's paper that there was a general kick from the merchants on account of the decision to enforce the ordinance and citizens have been quoted as saying that they would demand that the city fathers require the removal of buildings, fences and grass plats which are protruding on the sidewalks.

Chief Williams stated last night that unless he received assurances this morning from the telephone company that the poles would be removed he would issue a warrant in accordance with the provisions of the section of the ordinance quoted above and leave it to the courts to decide the correctness of his position.

Board of Canvassers to Meet.

The board of canvassers for this county will meet in the Court House today at noon to declare the result of Tuesday's election. Federal Point township was heard from yesterday, leaving only Masonboro not yet reported. In Federal Point Godwin received 13 votes and Meares 2, increasing Godwin's vote in the county to 1,074 and that of Meares to 166.

LOGICAL REMEDY FOR ECZEMA.

Many different remedies have been tried for eczema and other skin diseases. But it is now known that the only possible cure is a mild, soothing liquid made up of Oil of Wintergreen, Thymol, Glycerine, and other ingredients so carefully compounded that each ingredient has its proper effect.

This compound is now made up in the D. D. D. Prescription. Ten years of success and thousands of cures show the merit of this wonderful compound, but the most convincing proof is a trial of the remedy by any eczema sufferer.

D. D. D. will prove to you that you can be cured. The very first drops will give you instant relief. Get a trial bottle today.

THE RECORDER'S COURT.

Two Negroes Sentenced to the Roads Yesterday Morning.

George Stephens, colored, was the star performer in yesterday's session of the Recorder's court, being charged with cruelty to animals and firing a pistol in the city limits. The cruelty to animals consisted of driving a sore back mule to a wagon, the team belonging to John Whiteman, colored. The Recorder found him guilty of this charge and gave him three months on the county roads. The evidence was insufficient to convict in the other case.

Harkless Reaves, colored, came in for a like dose, being given three months on the roads for carrying a concealed weapon, to-wit: a razor. He was also charged with assault on Julia Moore, colored, with the razor, but was found not guilty in this case. Cases against Wm. H. Moore, the colored news dealer, charged with larceny and receiving stolen goods, were continued until Friday, owing to the absence of material witnesses. In the case of Percy Felton, colored, convicted at Monday's session of assault on his wife and fined $15 and costs, the Recorder ordered that the defendant be sent to the roads for three months, being unable to raise the amount of the fine and costs. Sheriff Cowan yesterday afternoon received a telegram from a person at Manning, S. C., asking that Felton be not sent to the roads for two days, as the fine and costs would be sent immediately upon a statement of the amount. The negro had already been sent to the roads, however, and will have to serve the time.

PYTHIAN PROPERTY SOLD.

Capt. Meares Returns From Business Trip to Delaware.

Capt. Thos. D. Meares, Supreme Master of Exchequer of the Knights of Pythias, returned the first part of the week from Wilmington, Del., where he went last week to sell a piece of property belonging to the Supreme Lodge. A Wilmington, Del., paper of Saturday contains the following regarding the sale of the property:

"It was learned yesterday afternoon that William E. Hawkins, a local real estate dealer had purchased twenty-six acres of land situated on the north and south sides of Thirtieth street and east of Market, near the Riverview cemetery. The purchase price is said to be $11,750.

"The ground was purchased from the Knights of Pythias and the sale was consummated yesterday. Capt. Thomas D. Meares, supreme master of exchequer, of North Carolina, and E. C. Reynolds, chairman of the finance committee, of Maine, having made the trip here for that purpose. They conferred with Supreme Representatives W. W. Knowles and Joseph C. Jolls, relative to the sale.

"Following the business of the afternoon the supreme officers were dined at Ainscow's and last evening a reception was held at the Knights of Pythias Hall, Seventh and King streets, at which 200 members of the order were present. Addresses were made by the supreme officers, Grand Chancellor C. F. Short, a professor at Delaware College, and Mr. Knowles.

"Mr. Hawkins said today that he had purchased the property as an investment. The property will be divided into building lots."

SON DARLINGTON LOCATED.

Negro Wanted in This City is In Jail At Whiteville.

Information was received at police headquarters yesterday morning to the effect that Son Darlington, colored, who is wanted in this city for assault with deadly weapon on another negro some time ago, is now in jail in Whiteville awaiting the next term of Columbus county Superior Court to answer several charges, having been arrested at Bolton a few days ago. It appears that Darlington entered the near-beer saloon of Amos Kuffy, colored, at Bolton and proceeded to raise a rough house. Officer McNeill was communicated with and he, after summoning a posse, went in search of the negro, who was by this time hunting for the woods. Darlington was soon overtaken and as the officer approached drew a pistol, but was prevented from doing any damage. Charges of disorderly conduct, carrying concealed weapon and assault with deadly weapon were preferred against Darlington, who was given preliminary hearing and bound over to the next term of court. Darlington figured prominently in a shooting affair in this city some weeks ago in which two or three negroes were wounded, one seriously and for a while it was thought that he could not recover. When the Columbus county authorities are through with Darlington they will probably turn him over to the authorities here.

Funeral of Mrs. Rising.

The funeral of Mrs. Mary A. Rising, wife of Mr. Richard F. Rising, who passed away Tuesday evening at the home of her daughter, Mrs. E. S. Piver, No. 505 Church street, was held from the late residence at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon, conducted by Rev. Thos. P. Noe, rector of the Church of the Good Shepherd. There were present a large concourse of relatives and friends. Following the service at the house the remains were tenderly borne to Bellevue cemetery, where the interment took place.

FELL THROUGH WINDOW.

Mr. Kelly W. Jewell Had Frightful Experience Yesterday Afternoon.

Mr. K. W. Jewell, the well known contractor and cabinet maker, while engaged yesterday afternoon about 5 o'clock in doing some interior decorative work in the store, recently vacated by the American National Bank, on Front street, had the misfortune to fall from a step ladder or scaffolding upon which he was standing, through one of the large plate glass windows in front. The glass, 85x114 inches in size, was smashed all to flinders, but fortunately and very miraculously Mr. Jewell escaped without a scratch. The place is being fitted up for E. Dinos, the Greek confectioner. The glass was insured with Messrs. J. H. Boatwright & Son and the only loss to the owner of the building will be the inconvenience of having to replace it. It was a very narrow escape for Mr. Jewell and his friends, after taking a peep at the glass, are congratulating him upon his exceeding good fortune.

BASKETBALL AT Y. M. C. A.

League of Four Teams Organized—Games Twice a Week.

The Junior department of the Y. M. C. A. has organized a strong four-team basketball league and games will be played on Tuesday and Thursday nights of each week in the gymnasium of the association. Interest in basketball is keen at the Y. M. C. A. and this form of sport will be very popular during the season. The following are the captains of the Junior league teams: Kenneth Davis, James Farrar, Joe LeMoyne and Henry Haar. A handsome cup has been offered as a prize to the winning team and will be awarded at the close of the series.

CAN'T BE SEPARATED

Some Wilmington People have Learned How to Get Rid of Both.

Backache and kidney ache are twin brothers.

You can't separate them.

And you can't get rid of the backache until you cure the kidney ache.

If the kidneys are well and strong, the rest of the system is pretty sure to be in vigorous health.

Doan's Kidney Pills make strong, healthy kidneys.

James Hansley, 309 N. Fifth St., Wilmington, N. C., says:

"For some time my back and kidneys troubled me, no doubt due to constant standing. I had dull, nagging backaches and a sharp pain across my loins. I could not stoop or lift without having twinges throughout my body. The kidney secretions contained sediment and were too frequent in passage. When I learned of Doan's Kidney Pills, I procured a box from Robert R. Bellamy's Drug Store and used them as directed. In a few days the backache and other annoyances ceased and have not returned since. I give this testimonial in the hope that some other sufferer from kidney trouble will be benefitted thereby."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

INVITATION IN RHYME TO DELIGHTFUL AFFAIR.

On the 11th to Delmonico's go
(Not in New York, but here, you know.)
For there's a treat in store for you
And all your friends who go there, too.
Fresh brown bread and Boston beans,
For folks of little and great means,
Pickles, too, and if you choose
Ham and pie—My! what good news!
Maidens fair will serve you well,
Then, we've dainty things to sell,
Needlework that you'll admire,
Dolls in beautiful attire,
Things to tempt your appetite,
(Try them and you'll find we're right)
Oh! we quite forgot to say,
That the 12th is Children's Day!
We've also planned for them a treat,
Gooodies that are hard to beat,
So let them come and there'll be joy
For every little girl and boy.
The proceeds of the sale will be
For our Home Mission cause, you see!

IMPORTANT MEETING OF NORTH CAROLINA SOROSIS.

A largely attended special meeting of the North Carolina Sorosis, one of the most active women's organizations in the city, was held Tuesday afternoon in the Masonic Temple library with the president, Mrs. Herbert McClammy, presiding. The club has on foot a number of movements looking to civic improvement and there is every reason to believe that the club will be a great force in the community during the Fall and Winter. The report of the civic committee was read and adopted. This committee, composed of the following ladies: Mrs. M. L. Stover, chairman; Miss Marguerite Gibson, Mrs. Andrew J. Howell, Mrs. C. C. Covington and Mrs. C. T. Harper. This committee will have as one of its main objects the extermination of the mosquito and the fly and this announcement will be hailed with delight by the thousands of people who reside in this city. It was pointed out in The Star last Summer how other cities had exterminated the mosquito and members of the club became interested in the proposition, but it was too late at that time to rid the city of the pest last Summer. They have, therefore, begun the campaign early and it is quite likely that the pest will be exterminated or decreased in numbers another season by the application of oil at the breeding places during the Winter months. The fly pest will also be tackled by the committee and results are expected. It is also the purpose of this committee to visit the public schools of the city, probably once a month, with a view of ascertaining whether or not they are kept in healthy condition, whether the buildings are well heated and ventilated, whether any children are in need of medical attention and whether they have good drinking water. This will be one of the most active of the several committees of the organization.

It was definitely decided to secure a date for Miss Flora Wilson, daughter of the Secretary of Agriculture, Washington, D. C., who is a singer of note. Miss Wilson will give one of her delightful recitals at the opera house in this city some time this month, the exact date to be announced later. While in this city Miss Wilson will be the guest of Mrs. Jessie Wise.

The Sorosis have taken up their Fall and Winter work with enthusiasm and interest. The several departments have been organized and are holding their regular monthly meetings.

LOCAL DOTS.

—James Durham, a well known colored citizen, passed away Monday at his home in this city, on Ninth, between Dock and Orange streets, of apoplexy. For many years he was employed by the old firm of Burr & Bailey and was well thought of by both white and colored people. One son, Charles, of New York, was here for the funeral, which was held yesterday afternoon.

—Rev. Wm. E. Cox, rector of St. John's Episcopal Church, yesterday closed a series of four addresses at the A. C. L. shops, under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A. Every Wednesday at 12:20 for the past month Mr. Cox has conducted the shop services and has been heard with interest at each. The meetings this month will be conducted by Rev. W. A. Snyder, pastor of St. Paul's Lutheran Church.

—Leases were filed for record yesterday as follows: Louis H. Skinner and wife to Mrs. Daisy H. Kingsbury, store in Garrell building, No. 128 Princess street, from October 1st, 1910, to September 30th, 1911, at an annual rental of $780; Louis H. Skinner and wife to Fletcher Pittman two store rooms in rear of Garrell building, on Second street, from October 1st, 1910, to September 30th, 1911 for $360.

—Deeds were filed for record yesterday as follows: W. F. Roberts and wife to James Roberts and wife, for $100 and other considerations, 13.4 acres of land in Harnett township, adjoining lands of D. C. McKeithan, Eugenia W. Harriss, Frank Herbst and others; C. J. Kelloway and wife to R. J. and E. A. James, for $10 and other considerations, lot on south side of Market street road, 165 feet west of 19th street, 66x113 feet in size.

M. L. WINNER TO ROADS.

HE Must Begin His Sentence Right Away.

The decision of the Supreme Court affirming the lower court in the case of M. L. Winner, a well known white man, convicted of selling whiskey and sentenced to six months on the county roads, having been received at the office of the Clerk of Superior Court and County Attorney Marsden Bellamy having given it as his opinion that the sentence should begin immediately, Sheriff S. P. Cowan will leave this morning for Carolina Beach to take Winner into custody. It was reported at one time yesterday that Winner had gone to Florida, but later in the day it was stated that he was at home at Carolina Beach.

Winner is under $300 bond for his appearance at the next term of Superior Court and it was generally thought that he would probably be given his freedom until that time. When the official record in the case was received from the Superior Court the Clerk here immediately consulted the county attorney, who advised that Winner should be taken into custody immediately. L. Clayton Grant, Esq. counsel for Winner will endeavor to secure a pardon for his client from Governor Kitchin.

LECTURE AT GRACE CHURCH.

Rev. Thos. A. Smoot Will Speak Tonight on "The Passion Play."

At Grace Methodist Church this evening at 8 o'clock, Rev. Thos. A. Smoot, pastor of the church, will deliver a lecture on "The Passion Play," the presentation of which he witnessed during his European tour last Summer. The lecture will be under the auspices of the Epworth League of the church and no admission fee will be charged. Mr. Smoot has lectured on this subject at several places and has been heard with an unusual degree of interest. The public is given a cordial invitation to atend the lecture tonight.

Theatrical

Yesterday the Academy management made one of the most important announcements of any season in the history of local theatricals—that Miss Mary Mannering, the noted actress, will appear in Wilmington next Monday night.

Her coming will be a notable event for theatre-goers, and to her coming is added zest in the fact that Miss Mannering is to open her brief Southern tour in Wilmington. She will jump from her big New York run, which ends on Broadway Saturday night, direct to Wilmington, bringing the original company and the original elaborate and massive New York production with her. Those who follow the career of theatricals in New York probably know that Miss Mannering this season has scored a brilliant triumph in the great play, "A Man's World," and so to have this noted actress come to Wilmington the first time out of New York this season indeed marks an important epoch in the amusement history of Wilmington. Already the announcement of Miss Mannering's coming has aroused deep interest among theatre-goers and there will, no doubt, be a rush for seats when the sale oepns at Plummer's Saturday morning.

"A Man's World" is laid in a quarter of New York's Bohemia. A novelist, a journalist, a German violinist, an Italian opera singer, a French painter, a miniaturist, a dramatist and a child comprise the characters. The play takes place in four acts, the scenes occurring entirely in the studios of the people concerned in the action of the drama, where a vivid conflict is waged. The picturesque ocloring of the artistic atmosphere and the unique group of people who are contrasted so interestingly makes an added basis of interest.

The action has to do with Frank Ware, a woman novelist, who has taken to her home a woman who dies, giving the impression that she has been betrayed. The novelist adopts the child who is left without a name, as there is no clue to the father. A striking situation is evolved when she finds that the man she loves is the father of "Kiddie" and is confronted with the problem of giving him up or being untrue to her ideals.

Fornia Tomorrow Night.

One of the greatest musical events ever offered to Wilmington will be that of the Fornia recital, scheduled for tomorrow night at the Academy of Music. This recital will be a superb event of the high-class musical type and will not only include the appearance of Rita Fornia, the famed grand opera soprano, but will also present Arturo Tibaldi, the noted English violinist. The appearance of either one of the stars would offer a rare opportunity in itself, but at the recital Friday night both will appear. The selections picked out by both for the Wilmington recital are especially of a splendid nature and were carefully considered, in order to give Wilmington music lovers the most attractive and pleasing programmes.

The sale of seats for Fornia is now on at Plummer's. Unfortunately the sale has not been anywhere as large as it should be, and music lovers should see to it that a larger sale results, otherwise Wilmington is going sadly lacking in future for high class musical attractions, and also upon the financial success of the Fornia recital depends a concert by Mme. Liza Lehman, in January.

The two star artists, Fornia and Tibaldi, will be accompanied by Miss Emma Coburn, of Savannah, Ga., who will come to Wilmington especially for this one concert.

There are a number of subscribers who have not called for their tickets. These are urged to do so at once especially as it is desired for them to get a fine selection of seats.

At the Bijou Today.

Another fine Biograph subject is offered as the feature picture at the Bijou today. It is entitled "The Affair of an Egg," telling the story of a near-romance. "Winona" is the title of another picture of more than usual interest. When a young child, Winona, was captured by a hostile band of Indians and taken to their village where she grew into womanhood, the pride and beauty of the tribe. She is seen by a white trapper who recognizes her as a childhood sweetheart and begs her to flee with him back to her people and civilization, and the many dangers that surround and overtake them in their daring flight is shown in the story.

Crystal Palace.

The bill at the Crystal Palace this week is drawing large and well pleased audiences. Each of the several numbers on the programme is good and some think the offering this week the best yet. The mid-week change of programme goes on today.

Joyland.

The feature film for today at Joyland will be "For the Love of Red Wing," a beautiful Indian love story that will please both old and young and a big feature comic, "The Bully's Waterloo," warranted to make you laugh until you cry. Not last but least is the "Tale of the Dog," a melo-drama full of interest.

PERSONAL PARAGRAPHS.

—Mr. S. P. McNair returned home yesterday from Tar Heel, where he has been spending a few days.

—Mr. E. L. Henry, of Elmore, arrived yesterday on the steamer City of Fayetteville on a business visit to the city.

—Gen. Scott Stanford, of Duplin county, was a visitor to the city yesterday and was pleasantly greeted by his many friends in this city.

FUNERAL OF MRS. PREMPERT.

Sad Services From Grace Methodist Church Yesterday Morning.

The funeral services of Mrs. Arthur Prempert, whose sad death occurred at her home in Winston-Salem Tuesday morning at 5 o'clock, was held from Grace Methodist Church, in this city, yesterday morning at 11 o'clock. There were present a large number of relatives and friends. Mrs. Prempert was a native of this city and well known and held in the highest esteem by all in her acquaintance. The services were conducted by the pastor, Rev. Thos. A. Smoot. The pallbearers were: Julius Weil, S. E. Wood, W. S. Register, W. L. West, A. M. Reinhold and Harry Z. Clowe.

A SHARP BREAK IN COTTON

Decline on the Market Yesterday Following Report of Census Bureau. Spot Closed Twenty Points Lower.

New York, Nov. 9.—Heavy general selling, following the report of the census bureau in the cotton market today and prices which had recently advanced on expectations of bullish ginners' returns and decreasing estimates of the crop, had a sharp break, closing barely steady at a net loss of 10 to 22 points.

Liverpool had shown considerable strength over the local holiday, but the census figures published at the re-opening of business here proved a little larger than had been looked for in bullish circles and first prices were two points lower to three points higher. At first there seemed to be almost demand from the leading bulls and abroad to offset realizing sales, but the market gradually weakened under the weight of offerings and while there was more or less irregularity, prices worked off to a net loss of about 16 to 22 points during the late morning. As offerings subsided the market steadied on covering by early sellers and some support from the bull leaders, but after a rally of 10 or 12 points, it again weakened under renewed liquidation and bear pressure and closed at practically the lowest figures of the day. Liverpool, which was about 20 to 30 American points better than due just before the local opening, broke sharply when it was seen that traders here were inclined to put a bearish construction on the census figures, but foreign buying orders appeared to be one of the chief sources of support during the middle of the day. All sorts of mathematical deductions were made from the report of the census bureau showing about 7,339,000 bales ginned to November 1st this year, comparing with 7,017,000 to the same date last season.

The amount ginned for the period between October 18th and November 1st this year was practically 1,929,000 bales compared with 1,486,000 bales last year and according to some authorities this indicated a crop of nearly 13,000,000 bales, while others pointed out that the total ginning to November 1st this year was less than 5 per cent. in excess of last season, suggesting a crop of under 11,250,000 bales.

Prime cables quoted a prominent English expert as estimating the world's requirements of American cotton for the season at 12,500,000 bales.

Receipts at the ports today 49,913 bales against 53,653 last week and 57,202 last year; for the week 375,000 bales against 390,584 last week and 377,388 last year. Today's receipts at New Oorleans 12,267 bales against 18,995 last year.

Spot cotton closed quiet, 20 points decline; middling uplands 14.75; middling gulf 15.00; sales 600 bales. Futures opened steady and closed barely steady.

AN INACTIVE DAY FOR STOCKS

Market Turned Its Back on the Results of the Elections—Demand Failed to Materialize—Futures Yesterday.

New York, Nov. 9.—The stock market today turned its back on the results of elections with characteristic performance for future over past influences as a field in which to search for motives of action. The demand, which it was hoped would be stimulated by the passing of the elections, failed to materialize and selling to take profits had to be done on a descending scale of prices in consequence.

The amount of profit-taking sales was large and the effect on prices acute and of growing effect as the day progressed. Final declines reached from 3 to 3 1-2 points for leading stocks.

The passing of the dividend on Sloss Sheffield Steel had been looked to some time past and the officials of the company has as part explanation an accident apparatus which had embarrassed operations.

The taking of a strike vote by locomotive engineers of Western railroad lines, directing renewed attention to another source of embarrassment confronting the railroads. The expiration of the term of agreements with railroad employes of various classes within the next few months will precipitate this subject into the field of active factors. The local strike of express wagon drivers gave the subject of labor troubles more vivid force in shaping stock market sentiment.

The German Potash law was a specific cause for the weakness of the fertilizer stocks. The granting of higher freight charges in Southeastern territory by the Inter-State Commerce Commission was equally specific in strengthening the Southern railway stocks.

Bonds were irregular. Total sales per value $2,130,000. United States bonds were unchanged on call. Total sales for the day 837,200 shares.

GINNERS' REPORT FEATURE.

Liverpool Advanced on Report of Crop Damage—Traders Bullish.

(Special Star Telegram.)

New York, Nov. 9.—Liverpool advanced sharply before our opening on reports of damage to the India crop from rain. The controlling factor however, was the Ginners' report of the Census Bureau stating that 7,339,983 bales had been ginned to date. During the last period the ginning exceeded 1,900,000 bales, almost the record for the period. This statement brought large realizing orders so that the market opened below the close of Monday and a severe break was only by the large buying by arbitrary brokers whose selling in Liverpool against these purchases caused the decline abroad. This decline comes as rather a shock to the outside holders of cotton, as the market has usually advanced on all goevrnment reports during the past two years.

The traders are bullish, believing the spinners must soon buy whether they believe the small crop estimates are disturbed by the ginners report or not. Usually after such a decline in Liverpool, the market closes higher the following day.

Not Sorry for Blunder.

"If my friends hadn't blundered in thinking I was a doomed victim of consumption, I might not be alive now," writes D. T. Sanders, of Harrodsburg, Ky., "but for years they saw every attempt to cure a lung-racking cough fail. At last I tried Dr. King's New Discovery. The effect was wonderful. It soon stopped the cough and I am now in better health than I have had for years. This wonderful life-saver is an unrivaled remedy for coughs, colds, lagrippe, asthma, croup, hemorrhages, whooping cough or weak lungs. 50c $1.00. Trial bottle free. Guaranteed by Robert R. Bellamy.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

which creates a fifth justiceship of the Supreme Court and increases the term of office to ten years from eight.

Speaker Clark's View.

Bowling Green, Mo., Nov., 9.—Downward revision of the tariff at once is the pledge made for the new Democratic House of Representatives by Champ Clark, Congressman from the ninth district, who is a candidate for the speakership.

"The landslide is in line with my prediction of months ago," said Congressman Clark at his home. "The people are tired of the present admin. istration and are provoked to just the extent that the returns indicate, with the tariff deception.

"The first and greatest proposition the Democrats should stand for is a reduction in the tariff to a revenue basis. I would reduce it scientifically and gradually and put into it a sliding scale, much like there was in the tariff bill of 1833.

"There is no question but what the Democrats will be on their good behavior in the next Congress and the future will depend largely on our conduct. Democrats now have a golden opportunity for constructive statesmanship and should seize it and demonstrate once more their fitness for legislating wisely and patriotically."

Robert E. Lee Elected.

Lessons of Election.

Washington, Nov. 9.—The election and its lessons and the pressing forward of the administration's legislative programme so as to get it out of the way before the accession of Democratic control in Cngress next year, were among the subjects discussed at a cabinet meeting today.

Featuring the administrative measures will be the plan for meeting second class mail abuses by requiring magazines—not newspapers—to pay increased postage on their advertising pages sufficient to eliminate postal deficits and warrant establishment of one-cent postage on first-class mail in the near future. This is Postmaster General Hitchcock's project.

The plan will be urged upon Congress at the coming short session and a number of magazine publishers already have expressed their disposition to co-operate. Congress will be asked to authorize separate weighing of advertising and legitimate reading matter, each publisher certifying to his local postmaster the facts necessary to determine the postage. Action will be urged on other measures.

President Taft realizes the necessity for getting through all needed administration legislation in the three months' session beginning next month. He called on members of the cabinet today for a statement of the situation in their respective departments, and the matter will be taken up in detail on the President's return from Panama.

Much of the proposed legislation which will be urged upon Congress in the President's forthcoming message, will be of a progressive character, and, it is said here, that the prospects are excellent for harmony in the Republican ranks.

Interesting as promise to be the events of the short session, the assembling of the new Congress, and its conduct—with a Democratic House and a Republican Senate, serving under a Republican President—will attract far wider attention. The first session of the new Congress, which will convene in a little more than a year hence, is practically committed to tariff revision by reason of yesterday's results. All through the special tariff session at which was passed the Payne-Aldrich bill, the Democratic minority contended that insufficient effort was being made to revise the tariff downward.

The important question that is being made to revise the tariff downward.

The important question that is being asked here, at the seat of the general government, therefore, is what will be done about the tariff when the hybrid Congress convenes, and it becomes necessary to reconcile differences between chambers of opposite political faiths.

It is not believed here that the Democrats will care to undertake to force tariff revision under a Republican President. Yet tariff measures must originate in the House, and inasmuch as the Democrats will be in control of that branch and in charge of all of its committee, it would appear that the taking of the initiative could not be evaded, even if that should be the desire of Democratic leaders.

The tariff is one of the questions on which the Democrats are almost as badly divided as were the Republicans.

So many Southern States have adopted the policy of protection, while in other sections where the Democracy is strong, there remains a sentiment in favor of practically free trade, especially free raw materials, that Republicans may now sit back and view with a measure of complacency the spectacle of their long-time enemies locking horns over questions which have broken their own hold upon the government.

No inroads upon Democratic control of the "solid South" were made by the Republicans. The appeals of both President Taft and Col. Roosevelt in this respect were in vain and the returns show losses to Republicans in limited number which that party has in the membership of the House from the Southern States. There is little doubt that most of the insurgent Republicans from Wisconsin, Minnesota, Iowa and Kansas have been returned.

In Tennessee.

Nashville, Tenn., Nov. 9.—The latest figures given out by the fusion headquarters on the Governor's race places the plurality of Hooper, Republican, at 17,000. Democratic State Chairman Vetrees alleges that frauds have been committed by the Republicans in East Tennessee, but the opposition says there is no ground for such a charge. The Legislature is very close. The Democrats claim 19 out of 33 Senators and 49 out of 99 representatives with a chance for one or two more. The Socialist candidates for Congress in the 6th district received 1,713 votes in Davidson county, but his vote in other counties was light. The Socialist vote in the State is but little if any greater than in 1909.

Majority Increases in Florida.

Jacksonville, Fla., Nov. 9.—With three-fourths of the vote of the State reported the majority against the proposed constitutional amendment prohibiting the sale of intoxicating liquors in Florida is 5,294. This w... probably be increased rather than diminished as many of the counties, which were expected to give heavy majorities for the amendment are giving majorities against it.

C. L. Collins, manager of the prohibition campaign, is not giving any figures but is talking of contesting the election. The tota vote will probably be the largest in the history of the State, exceeding 60,000.

Situation in Iowa.

Des Moines, Iowa, Nov. 9.—Returns from 91 counties out of 99 in Iowa tonight show that the Republicans yesterday elected 10 Congressmen and the entire State ticket, headed by Governor B. F. Carroll. The latter's plurality probably will reach 15,000.

The Democrats elected I. S. Pepper to Congress from the second district.

The Legislature is safely Republican with a majority of sixty on joint ballot. The progressive Republicans claim that they will control the party caucus by twenty votes. The Legislature will choose a man to succeed the late Senator Dolliver.

Socialist Vote in New York.

New York, Nov. 9.—Marked gains in the Socialist vote throughout the State, are shown in the returns from yesterday's election. Figures available tonight indicate a total vote for Charles Edward Russell, nominee for governor of 65,000, which is nearly double the 33,994 vote of 1908. In New York City, Russell received 27,230.

Most significant however, are the increases up-State. Sixty-five cities that gave a vote of 7,850 two years ago, show 28,000 this year. In the outlying districts, the gains are especially notable. Districts which formerly showed less than 10 votes this year report from 100 to 500.

Among the large cities that show substantial gains are Buffalo, Schenectady, Syracuse and Rochester.

In some instances the increases are as high as 500 per cent.

Democrats in Ohio.

Cleveland, Ohio, Nov. 9.—Final unofficial figures on the Ohio election show that the Democrats have elected 15 out of 21 Congressmen. Full reports tonight from the 19th district show that Representative W. Aubrey Thomas, Republican, was defeated by E. R. Bathrick, Democrat, by 1,800 votes. In the 20th District, Representative Paul Howland, Republican, wins on the unofficial figures over William Gordon, Democrat, by only 54 votes and the Democratic committee claims that the official canvass will show Gordon elected.

THE SAVANNAH RACES.

Drivers and Mechanicians Make Final Preparations.

Savannah, Ga., Nov. 9.—With but one day remaining ere the starter of the American Automobile Association of American will send the fast cars on their long journeys around the grand prize course of Savannah Automobile Club committeemen, drivers and mechanicians, are busily employed in final preparation.

An indication that the grand prize race may prove a record breaker, was afforded in today's practice when David Bruce Brown, driving a Fiat, made the circuit of the 17.3 miles course at a speed that figured out as 76 miles an hour. No other driver let his car out for such speed.

Friday morning at 10 o'clock the races will begin the Savannah challenge trophy event being the first. The greatest event of the meet, the grand prize, will be raced on Saturday beginning at 9 o'clock.

KILLED BY AUTOMOBILE.

Chaffeur and Passenger Held Without Bail for Murder.

New Orleans, Nov. 9.—For the first time in Louisiana bail was refused today to defendants charged with the running down by automobile or a pedestrian. William F. Hoffman, a chaffeur, and Fred Goodyear, a passenger in Hoffman's automobile at the time the machine struck and killed John Kelly, several days ago, were held without bond and a charge of murder has been preferred against them.

Every housewife "in business"—is a buyer of home supplies—and should watch for buying opportunities as closely as though she were buying to sell again.

RAILROAD APPOINTMENTS.

Announced on Hocking Valley System—Several in Richmond.

Columbus, Ohio., Nov. 9.—The Hocking Valley Railway Company today announced the election and appointments as follows:

F. M. Whitaker, Richmond, Va., third vice president in charge of traffic; G. B. Wall, Richmond, Va., assistant to the president in charge of real estate and taxation; L. F. Sullivan, Richmond, Va., comptroller; William Michel, Columbus, Ohio, chief engineer; Clarence M. Brown, Toledo, Ohio, director. The positions to which Messrs. Whitaker, Wall and Sullivan were elected are new.

CARD OF THANKS.

To the New Hanover Democracy:

I wish to return my warmest thanks for the support given me yesterday at the polls. I deeply appreciate what you have done for me in the past and your suffrage of yesterday, and I will earnestly strive in future to merit your good will and endorsement. I wish it were so I could see each one and thank him personally. I shall always hold you warm in my heart.

Yours,
S. P. COWAN, Sheriff.
